

AUSTRIA REPORTED NEGOTIATING FOR SEPARATE PEACE

Swiss Diplomats Rumored to Have Carried Proposals to the Czar

ABSOLUTELY NO CONFIRMATION

Declared Russia Has Answered She Will Not Make Terms Unless Austria Joins War Altogether

PETROGRAD CLAIMS ADVANCES

Austrians Said to Have Been Driven Back in the Lupkow-Uzozk Region

LONDON, April 2.—With Russian armies threatening to burst through into the Hungarian plains, Austrian diplomats already have begun overtures looking to a separate peace with Russia, according to reports now in circulation in Petrograd, but utterly without official confirmation. Swiss diplomats, Petrograd reports, have carried the Austrian overtures to the czar. They have been informed that Russia will not negotiate with Franz Josef unless Austria at the same time she concludes a peace with France and England, but that Russia is willing to halt her armies at the Carpathians and listen to peace proposals.

Petrograd correspondents of the London papers today asserted that there is good ground for the belief that the report may be true. It was first printed in the Russky Slovoe, a Petrograd newspaper usually well informed.

The Geneva Switzerland papers, according to the London Daily Mail report that the Turkish minister of finance, David Bey, is in Switzerland. His visit, according to the Mail, is for the purpose of attempting to arrange peace terms with the allies.

Advance in Mountains
PETROGRAD, April 2.—By almost superhuman efforts, the Russians have driven the Austrians backward upon the heights and have seized the railway leading through Volia Michova and Lupkow southward into Hungary, according to dispatches received here today.

The fighting was particularly bitter near Volia Michova, where the Austrians held strong positions in the heights, protected by rows of trenches on the hillsides and wire entanglements. To the east of Volia Michova, an Austro-German force is being pressed backward in the direction of the Uzozk.

The Lupkow-Uzozk region is now the scene of the most desperate fighting. South of the Dukla the Austrians have abandoned their attacks. Both sides apparently are awaiting the results of the great combat for the Lupkow and Uzozk Passes.

Forcing Back Austrians
The remnants of the Austrian force that invaded Russian Bessarabia, north of Bukovina, is being forced back upon the Rumanian border, the Austrians having been ambushed. There is every prospect that the retreating Austrians will be forced to cross into Rumania and be interned for the remainder of the war.

VILLA AVIATOR CALLS OFF BOMB-DROPPING AND QUILTS HIS JOB

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, April 2.—Ho Hum! just as the city was going to have a reserved seat for the great Villista side show of dropping regular European bombs on the Carranzista camp, the aviator up and quits.

He's H. M. Rhinehart and today's he's heading north toward his own fireside at Dayton, Ohio. He claimed there was difficulty over money matters.

And, Ho Hum! again, the wheel on the Villista machine is held here while authorities determine whether it's neutral to fix up smashed parts of a Mexican aeroplane.

But the city's taking heart. Carranzistas say they're going to have a machine which will do things. And maybe, too, they'll have a home made gunboat—a launch armored to the teeth with machine guns. Then, saith the Carranzistas, let them Villistas be-ware.

While the American officers wait for something to start at Matamoros, across the border, they are spending their time with neutrality problems, the latest of which is whether supplies can be ferried across the river to Villistas at a secluded spot without violating neutrality.

THINK VAN HISE PLAN WILL WIN OVER PHILIPPIDEA

Madison Guess Is That the President Has Won Committee to His View on Control

BENNETT DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT

Tells Assaults of Van Hise That Shameful Abuse Before Committee Must Cease

THINKS REMEDY HAS BEEN FOUND

Favors Board of Estimates and Apportionment as Suggested in "Prexy's" Proposed Plan

MADISON, Wis., April 2.—For the past three days President Van Hise of the university has sat before the assembly committee on education and heard himself excoriated by supporters of the state board of education bill as a domineering tyrant, a super-smooth lobbyist, and the one factor in the Wisconsin educational system responsible for the backwardness of the secondary schools. Despite these vicious attacks it is the general sentiment at the capitol that Dr. Van Hise will emerge from the ordeal triumphant. His plan to inaugurate a board of estimates and apportionment to handle the finances of the university has met with almost general approval by the committee. It is thought that if any change in the present system is made, it will be the Van Hise idea that will be ultimately accepted.

Bennett Protests Attacks
The attack upon the president became so personal and violent Thursday afternoon that Senator Bennett of Winona stopped the hearing to protest.

"I vehemently object to the trend that this hearing has taken," said Senator Bennett. "This hearing is not the place for personal attacks upon Dr. Van Hise and no man fit to appear before this committee should have the temerity to attempt it. President Van Hise has come here at the invitation of the committee. He has disarmed his critics by frankly admitting that the university has made mistakes and he has suggested a constructive plan to better conditions that is exactly what the people of Wisconsin have been looking for for years. It is the idea ideal. If such a system is installed Dr. Van Hise will have done more for the people of Wisconsin than any other man. He has come here in a friendly spirit of co-operation and he should be received in the same spirit."

Senator Bennett's speech was occasioned by a letter read by H. W. Morgan, a Madison attorney, alleged to have been written by ex-Governor Hoard, in which he claimed that it was the domination of the board of regents by President Van Hise that forced him to resign as a member. The letter was couched in violent language.

President Van Hise further outlined his plan for a board of estimates and apportionment at the hearing. He said that what was true of the United States Steel corporation was true of the University of Wisconsin. Any corporation too large to be properly run by a single board of directors was managed by a number of boards. The board of estimates and apportionment located in Wall street and handled all of the appropriations, and if a subsidiary company wanted a new mill it came to that board and presented its project. After the appropriation was granted, the board had nothing to do with the new mill. This plan, he said, ought to be adopted by the university.

The sensation of the afternoon was the speech made by Assemblyman Minkley of Milwaukee. He touched off a veritable bomb under the forces working for the bill. He used names with abandon and altogether the tory forces spent an uncomfortable afternoon. He took up the question of the university in politics.

NEW FLOTILLA OF SUBMARINES IN THE NORTH SEA

Four Ships Torpedoed while British Sweep Channel to Find Raiding Fleet

ONE OF VESSELS A NORWEGIAN

Believed Germans Plan Simultaneous Attacks on Ships Off All Coasts of England

BY ED L. KEEN

LONDON, April 2.—A whole flotilla of German submarines is now menacing North sea shipping, according to dispatches brought here today. While destroyers were sweeping the English channel for the un-dersea raiders four ships have been torpedoed and sent to the bottom in the North sea. It is feared a number of lives have been lost.

Three small trawlers from ports on the Tyne have been sunk off the mouth of the river by the German submarine U-10, according to Newcastle dispatches today. The Norwegian sailing vessel Nor, according to Amsterdam dispatches was torpedoed by the U-20 off the coast of Holland yesterday, while enroute to England. Her crew of twelve men was landed at the Hook of Holland today.

Later dispatches from Newcastle said that the crews of the Gloriana and the Nillie, two of the torpedoed trawlers, were brought to port by fishing vessels and that the crew of the Jason, also sent to the bottom, is believed to have been rescued.

The trawler's crews reported that they were treated with every consideration by the commander of the U-10, who first ordered them to take to their boats, passed them cigars and coffee and then sank their vessels. The submarines commander told them, they reported, that he had orders to "sink everything afloat."

A dispatch from Rotterdam said that Dutch skippers reported sighting several German submarines, within a few miles of each other, patrolling the North sea. For the past week the Germans have confined their activities almost exclusively to the English channel and the southwest coast of England and Wales. Admiralty officials believe the Germans now plan to frighten English ships by delivering simultaneous attacks on all the coasts of England.

REVIVE PLAN TO NEUTRALIZE MEXICO

State Department Would Install Federal Police and Keep Factions Away from Capital

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Another attempt was being made today to have Mexico City declared neutral. The original plan of creating a federal district police force, to replace military guards, and the pledging of all factions to stay away from the capital has been endorsed by the state department. Villa and Zapata are understood to have agreed. Consul Silliman is endeavoring to secure Carranza's consent.

Advices from Torreon to the Villista junta say Villa already has arranged expeditions to head off sorties by his enemies intended to cut the main railway to the north and to Mexico City. He has also started an expedition toward northern Sonora.

The Villistas, in a manifesto issued today claim that they dominate four-fifths of Mexico. They have named the following new cabinet:

Foreign relations, Diaz Lombardo; treasury, Francisco Escudero; interior, Francisco Lagos Chazare; justice, Manuel Mendez Lopez; communications, Luis Garza Cardenas; public instruction, Valentin Gama; public works, Otilio Montano; agriculture, Manuel Palafox; war, General Francisco Pacheco.

Sho that the plan to neutralize Mexico City be carried out the Villistas will move to Chihuahua City to administer the territory under their control.

The Carranzista war chest, flat for some time, will be well padded shortly. Nearly one million dollars in gold will reach Progreso within the next three days to pay for sisal now being imported to the United States. Much of this cash will be diverted to the Yucatan treasury. With it Carranza is expected to endeavor to win some leading Villista supporters.

NO MORE CASES OF CATTLE PLAGUE KNOWN IN THE U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The agricultural department announced yesterday afternoon there are now no known cases of foot and mouth disease in the United States. It is hoped to lift the quarantine soon.

THOUSANDS FOLLOW THE KING OF ENGLAND ON WATER WAGON FOR WAR

LONDON, April 2.—King George's example bore fruit today when thousands of Londoners today voluntarily pledged themselves not to drink any intoxicating liquor while the war continues. Included among the pledge signers were leading merchants and government officials.

The pledges were circulated all over the city today, though many business houses were closed on account of Good Friday. At the same time London newspapers printed form petitions in which the signers promised to support the government in any step it took—whether to regulate or absolutely to prohibit sale of liquor.

Representatives of big English breweries and distilleries will hold an informal conference early next week to plan a campaign to combat the prohibition movement. They have been assured that the cabinet will take no hasty action and that in case a prohibition order is issued the liquor interests will be fully compensated.

TURKEY PROTESTS MEXICAN CASES

Asks State Department to Take Up the Death of Two Moslems in Republic

OTHER CASES BROUGHT UP

Two Texans Are Reported Killed for Resisting Carranzist Seizure of Cattle

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Turkish Charge d'Affaires Hussein Bey appealed to the state department for redress for the recent execution on a counterfeiting charge at Torreon of Salomon Nigri and Rafael Fereze, Turkish subjects.

Affidavits were submitted asserting the two were not fairly tried. Under present conditions, it was maintained, Turkey is compelled to look to America to represent her in Mexico.

The state department will investigate, it was stated.

The department is looking, too, into the cases of Baron Smith and Roscoe Billings, Houston and El Paso, respectively, reported to have been shot by a firing squad two months ago for resisting a Carranzista attempt to "lift" their cattle.

Consul Silliman was instructed to interfere in behalf of J. M. Doherty, held at Vera Cruz on a charge of counterfeiting Carranzista banknotes—a trumped up accusation, his friends assert.

Consular Representative Carothers was also directed to demand release by Villistas at Chihuahua City of Leonard Worcester, a mining engineer, accused of making a fraudulent ore assay.

MINEOLA, L. I., April 2.—Mrs. Florence Carman, wife of Dr. Edward Carman of Freeport will go on trial for the second time for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey on May 10, District Attorney Smith announced today. A jury disagreed in the first trial of the physician's wife, who was accused of shooting Mrs. Bailey in the doctor's office.

James Stormont and Son, contractors, were today awarded the contract for construction of the $17,000 Holy Cross parochial school, to be situated at the corner of Thirtieth and Ferry streets. The winning firm was awarded the contract on a bid of $14,224, which was the lowest estimate made by the contesting contractors. This amount does not include the plumbing and heating, bids for which will be received today. Work on the construction of the building, to be one of the finest parochial school buildings in La Crosse, will be commenced in a few days.

PETRASKY STARTED FIGHT WITH THREE THEY TELL COURT

Judge Cronon Reconsiders and Lowers Fines of Two Union Men to Those Assessed Non-unionists

PETRASKY BLAMES THE OTHERS

Says He Was Knocked Down and Kicked by Mill Employes Before Bartoviak Came to Rescue

UNION MEN APPEAL DECISION

Two of "Lock-outs" Arrested After the Fight Are Freed; Testimony Is Conflicting

After fining Thomas Petrasky, William Wittenberg and Andrew Bartoviak, the first two of whom are members of the locked-out union employes of the La Crosse Rubber Mills company, $12 and costs for fighting, while Ben Moe, Philip Roth and Cornelius Hans, non-union rubber mills employes, were required to pay only $10 and costs for their participation in Monday night's trouble near the Rubber mills, Police Justice Edward Cronon reconsidered his decision later this afternoon and lowered the fines of Wittenberg and Bartoviak to $10. Petrasky's fine was unchanged. The union's attorney, Fred H. Hartwell, when informed of Judge Cronon's reconsideration, said that his appeal to the circuit court would not be withdrawn.

That Thomas Petrasky, a member of the rubber workers' union locked out of the La Crosse Rubber mills, attacked them, thus starting the fight which resulted in the arrest of eight men Monday evening, was the testimony given before Judge Cronon in police court this morning by Philip Roth, Benjamin Moe and Cornelius Hans, non-union rubber workers. Petrasky denied the claim, asserting that he was attacked. He said Roth, Moe and Hans had knocked him down and kicked him in the face before Andrew Bartoviak, an employee of the Smith manufacturing company not allied with either faction of the rubber mills struggle, came to the rescue.

Fine Union Men $12

Petrasky, Bartoviak and William Wittenberg, another union man who was arrested after the fight, were fined $12 and costs by Judge Cronon. Moe, Roth and Hans were fined $10 and costs. Attorney Fred H. Hartwell, for the union men, appealed from Cronon's findings to circuit court. The non-union men paid their fines. Petrasky, Bartoviak and Wittenberg were released on bond.

Edward Wittenberg, brother of William Wittenberg, was found not guilty, and Louis Wittenberg, a younger brother of the two, was released when charges against him were dismissed.

Stories Contradict

The stories of the start of the fight were contradictory. Moe, Roth and Hans blamed Petrasky, and he charged them with opening hostilities. Mrs. Marie Newton, who lives a few blocks from the scene, and whose sons are employed at the mills, corroborated the story of the non-union men, although she said she was not close enough to be sure who started the trouble. Bartoviak and Wittenberg knew nothing of the beginning of the row, having got to the scene until it was under way.

Bartoviak was passing the spot on a bicycle and went to Petrasky's aid when the latter called for help. Wittenberg arrived about the same time, he told the court.

The little police court room was jammed with friends of both the non-union and locked-out workers, and Judge Cronon was forced several times to demand quiet.

Moe Is Grilled

Benjamin Moe was unmercifully grilled by the lawyers. At times, his story as to the exact details of the affair wavered. He was allowed to leave the stand only after City Attorney Higbee's objection that Hartwell's questioning was immaterial, was sustained by Judge Cronon. Moe was not certain whether Philip Roth had struck Petrasky.

From the bulk of the testimony, the evidence was that Petrasky molested the three men by himself. Philip Roth, the testimony of Moe showed, was struck in the face and knocked down by Petrasky in the first round of the fight. Petrasky displayed several bruises on the forehead and nose which he says are the prints of a heavy boot. He maintained that all three men had him down on the ground and one of the men was kicking him.

Moe testified that Cornelius Hans, a brother of the organizer of the

"Whys" of Moves in European War

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK, April 2.—11 a. m.—The inability of the British authorities to deal with the labor situation by half measures is becoming increasingly apparent. But it is by no means certain that whole measures will be much more effective. The British working class is as tenacious to its rights as is the most exclusive aristocracy. Among its most secure privileges is its use of saloons—"public houses" they are called—as informal clubs. The right to work half time at good wages, and spend the rest of the time in beer and spirit drinking and in good fellowship, is another time honored privilege of the British workingman. When Lloyd-George introduced his war budget in the house of commons last summer, he took advantage of the temperamental factor among a large part of the English people. He levied a war tax of one cent per half pint of beer, estimating the relieved instantly with 2 ounces of Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant. A whole pint costs 50 cents. Money refunded if not perfectly satisfactory by Geo. E. Mariner's Drug Store.

exchequer would benefit by $88,000,000 annually. He urged the people to drink more beer, declaring every glassful consumed would help finance the war. This exuberant utterance of the chancellor of the exchequer is being cited in England to create an impression that the present condition of intemperance among the workingmen is not due entirely to themselves.

If the British government finally is compelled to prohibit the sale of intoxicants, the policy will be purely experimental. The result cannot possibly be foretold. What probabilities there are militate against the success of the measure, both because of resentment among the working-class and because those who are now carousing may not be in condition to speed up their work.

This latter factor, indeed, may turn out to be one of the serious obstacles to the production of advance ammunition supplies. British trade unionism has long imposed restrictions on output because in the best of times there is not enough work to go round at a wage commensurate with a high standard of living. An average moderate productivity has been the guiding trade union principle. Now, when a sudden crisis has risen demanding a sustained maximum effort on the part of British labor all the principles of the workingman's life have to be reversed to meet the new condition.

It may be the task is an impossible one. British labor, in fact, may not have the necessary physical stamina for the speeding up which the government is demanding. The relationship between a high standard of living and productive efficiency, is very marked. Americans have long realized this fact, but Englishmen have neglected it. For that neglect England may have to pay a heavy price.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

AMABEL'S DESIRE

BY BRYANT L. ROGERS

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure's Newspaper Syndicate.

"My greatest desire?" repeated Miss Amabel Walton. "Why, my dears, I am such a very contented old person that I'm afraid all of my wishes have been gratified."

"Old?" scoffed Stella Mayse. "As if you could ever grow old!" "It is because you look so contented, Miss Walton, that Stella and I wondered if you really suffered from an ungratified desire," Marion Reeves smiled at her instructress with lustrous gray-green eyes.

Miss Walton looked dreamily at the gray old college buildings wearing their ivy green mantles with dignified submission to the passing years, and a tender smile touched her soft lips.

"There is one unfulfilled wish that haunts my hours," she admitted at last.

"I knew it," triumphed Stella. "Do you mind telling us about it?" asked Marion.

"It is such a simple wish that you will wonder why I have not gratified it—I am dying to wear pink—a soft rosy gown—there, am I not perfectly idiotic?"

The little teacher of music at Fenton college looked appealingly at the sympathetic girlish faces of her favorite pupils.

"Why don't you wear it, then?" marveled Stella.

Miss Walton touched her beautiful snowy hair. "Because it would be absurd—at my age. But how I longed to wear it when I was a child! I lived with a maiden aunt who was severely plain in her beliefs. I was permitted to wear gray or brown or blue—but pink was looked upon as a frivolous color and so it was banned from my wardrobe."

"Aunt Matilda had a maid who once told me that pink was most unbecoming to me—it made me look yellow; so I cast aside her pink sun-bonnet which I had worn to the meadow, and with it I threw away my last hope of wearing the beautiful color of hope and youth. As the years passed on and I became self-supporting and could choose colors, I never bought a pink frock, though I longed to—I believed it to be unbecoming; and the years have gone by and I've worn black and white and blue and brown and lavender, but never a bit of pink—and there is my ungratified wish!"

Miss Walton's soft brown eyes were very bright when she finished and there were two pink spots in her unwrinkled cheeks. With her slow white hair she was beautiful and the hair which might have added weight to her years, also lent a freshness and bloom of a youth which was not very distant.

"But that is no reason why you should not wear pink now, dear Miss Walton," insisted Marion. "Do—please!"

"Please!" added Stella. "My dears—I am forty-eight!" protested Amabel tragically.

"A woman is as young as she looks!"

"And you look very, very young indeed. Won't you wear a pink frock to the October reception?"

Miss Walton hesitated. "I must have a new frock," she admitted.

"Do let us go to town with you and select it," urged the girls, and at last Amabel Walton consented.

The night of the October reception Amabel regarded her reflection in the mirror with mingled distrust and delight.

Could that charming being daintily gowned in rose pink crepe de chine be Miss Amabel Walton, instructor of music? What had she worn at other receptions? Black charmeuse—soft white frocks—once a dainty violet crepe—in all these gowns she had looked charming but mature.

In this delicate pink creation she looked a slender girlish figure—like one of those Dresden china bits on her mantelpiece.

The door burst open and Stella and Marion stood there in their simple white frocks.

"Oh, Miss Walton!" they gasped in delight and were very silent.

"Do I look very foolish?" she asked at last.

"You look— heavenly!" cried Stella enthusiastically, while Marion bent and kissed her soft cheek.

There was a murmur of surprise in the room when Amabel entered with Stella and Marion.

There was such a transformation from the plainly gowned little music teacher that Mme. Drouet, the French teacher, elevated her sandy eyebrows and whispered ironically to Prof. Hanford.

Prof. Hanford frowned and his eyes followed Amabel's pink-clad form with such a mixture of admiration and wistfulness in their depths that mademoiselle turned quite yellow with jealousy. The rude remark of a thoughtless freshman added to the French woman's discomfiture.

"Dear me!" whispered the freshman at mademoiselle's elbow, "doesn't mademoiselle look a fright?"

"Quite like an egg salad with plenty of mayonnaise," returned her companion in the same giggling whisper.

Mademoiselle swept away and Prof. Hanford, glad of his release, wandered aimlessly around until he came upon Amabel sitting alone in the deep bay window, a roll of music in her hand and her brown eyes shining with unshed tears.

"You are to play for us?" asked the professor in a pleased tone.

Amabel shook her head and essayed a faint smile.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 2.—Little Mary Weind didn't like to go to school so she cut her curls with a rusty pair of shears knowing that mamma would not send her to school until the hair grew out again. THE AMERICAN DISEASE

Neurasthenia may be called a distinctively American disease because the condition of nervous strain that produces it is more prevalent here than in any other country. Overwork and worry, ambition, haste, the high tension at which business is conducted, all use up the nerve force and produce neurasthenia, for the disease is simply exhaustion and excessive irritability of the nerve centers.

A tendency to neurasthenia is inherited by many Americans whose ancestors had but a small stock of nervous energy to bequeath. Grief, excessive worry or disappointment in love, business or school work may cause neurasthenia.

The symptoms include a feeling of exhaustion upon rising in the morning, of disturbed sleep, headache, with a sense of weight and tightness about the head. The patient is irritable, difficult to please, and suffers from depression.

The treatment is to remove the cause if possible (as when overstudy is responsible) take abundant rest, spend ten hours in bed out of every twenty-four, eat as much nourishing food as possible and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the nerves. Daddy's Bedtime

The Mist Of the Waterfall.

And a feeling of sadness steals o'er me That is half akin to pain, And resembles sorrow only As the mist resembles the rain.

"BEAUTIFUL lines, eh, kiddies?" asked daddy. "There is something fascinating about the mist. I think Longfellow must have been looking out upon it when he wrote the poem."

"There are different kinds of mists, of course. There is the mist of the dawn that clears before the rising sun. There is the mist which hangs some days over the face of the sea and gives it a ghostly appearance. There is the mist of a wet day upon the land, when the rain comes in alternate showers. But there is one member of the mist family which I think is very beautiful, and that is the mist of the waterfall."

"Picture to yourselves, children, a great gorge right in the center of green hills that are ever so high, crowned with woods and the loveliest of verdure. A little rioting stream of water not more than two feet deep and about ten feet wide dashes madly over rocks and a pebbly bed, between high shaded banks, down to the brink of a precipice, and from this it tumbles off 100 feet into a boiling caldron of water below, a caldron which churns and churns as if witches were stirring it with magic spoons of unrest."

"From this caldron of churning water, away down in the shadowed pool below the brink of the precipice, the mist is always rising night and day. And how many shapes that mist can assume! It is as if some wonderful fairy dwelt there, some fairy with an artistic soul always trying some experiment."

"At night sometimes the wan moonlight shines upon these mists far down in the gulf. And what wonderful shining forms it makes of them! You think of them as the old moon's silver children struggling to reach their mother, who went away from them ever so long ago. It is sad in a way, as all nature is a little sad at night, and makes you feel more deeply than you do in the daytime."

"But at dawn, when the sun climbs from his bed in the east, with his face all red, because perhaps he's angry at having to get up—that is when the mists that rise from the waterfall are most wonderful. They are shot through and through with light and are tinged with a glorious rose that seems fairly to laugh with the joy of living. And mists can laugh when they are bathed in the sunlight, kiddies."

And From This It Tumbles Off.

SPOONER AND
THE UNIVERSITYConsiderable interest is felt in the possibility that former Senator John C. Spooner may return from New York to oppose Governor Philipp's bill reorganizing the state university control. Mr. Spooner is a friend of the university, and if needed, his aid will be welcomed. That, if danger of the bill passing exists, the former senator would be able to exert strong influence upon a legislature constituted as is this one, seems probable.
In the absence of anything further, a letter from Mr. Spooner to the legislature might be effective.THE PRICE OF AN ARTISTIC SUCCESSLa Crosse owes much to its musical people. Few citizens comprehend the amount of hard work and study necessary to develop genius and perfect programs.For instance, take "Danny Deever." Walter Damrosch set the piece to music. So difficult was its effective rendition that few professionals have attempted it, and only Blapham made a great success with the piece.Surprising, then, that Ralph Toland and Walter Goetzinger as accompanist, are making a reputation with "Danny Deever."No. These men have talent—everybody knows that. But the thing that everybody does not know is that they worked on "Danny Deever" for six long years before they first sang it in public.The close analysis, the fine shades of interpretation tested, the training to develop clearness of enunciation and the different voice qualities to distinguish the characters, voicing the emotions—anger, contempt, fear and heart-sickness in the face of the tragedy of a just execution
—the bravado of the color sergeant opposed to the frank timorousness of the rooky, and over and throughall the dramatic intensity with which the terribles of the incident is driven home with vivid reality—these things were achieved with painstaking labor and years of application.The manner in which the artists work together, their perfect co-operation and understanding each of the other, also represents work and long association. The Parents' and Teachers' association of the Normal school acknowledges an obligation to Messrs. Toland and Goetzinger, and to this may be added a word in appreciation of the Bijou management's recognition of the truth that an artist of Mr. Goetzinger's genius is in a sense a community asset.
However, lest we take too much for granted, it may be suggested that "Thank you!" is poor pay for even that priceless and underpaid gift of the gods: art.MR. GRANKE'S LITTLE BILLIn discussing the bill rendered the city by Mr. Otto Granke for moving equipment from the old to the new pumping station, one justifiable item was omitted. It was the charge of $71 which the former alderman and present candidate paid for the use of lumber and jacks, which he charged to the city.On this basis, separating the bill as at first rendered into its items, we have:To rental of lumber and jacks $ 71.00

To services in draying 123.00

To delay and damage and expense incident thereto 1006.00

Total $1200.00

As revised when finally itemized,
at the request of the committee, Mr.
Granke's bill showed:

To lumber and jacks rental $ 71.00

To draying, etc. 123.00

To delay, etc. 600.00

Total $ 794.00

Again referring to the itemized bill as presented by Mr. Granke, let us have a look at the actual service for the delay in performing which he asked, first $1,006.00, and later $600.00. The items follow:

Dec. 4, 1913, to 4 hrs. draying $ 2.00

Dec. 4, 1913, to 5 hrs. draying 2.00

Jan. 28, 1914, taking pipe off boiler 4.50

Feb. 26, 1914, 3 men 3 hrs. 2.25

Blake pump 2.25

Feb. 27, 1914, 3 men 3 hrs. 2.25

Blake pump 2.25

Apr. 3, 1914, 3 piston heads 15.00

Apr. 7, 1914, draying 30.00

May 1, 1914, 3 plungers 15.00

May 7, 1914, draying 30.00

May 4, 1914, draying 2.00

May 5, 1914, draying 2.00

May 14, 1914, draying for jacks 2.00

May 14, 1914, (item not clear) 4.00

May 19, 1914, (item not clear) 2.00

May 20, 1914, (item not clear) 3.00

May 26, 1914, (item not clear) 5.00

Total $123.00

Adding to this total of $123.00 for work done the $71 for rental of lumber and jacks, we have as the sum total of the service and incidental expense which Mr. Granke was able to itemize, the sum of $194.00.
And it was in the performance of the services which, as itemized in the last above bill, total $123.00, that Mr.
Granke asked the city to pay him, as damages for delay, first $1,006.00 and later $600.00. As he finally accepted payment, of the $500.00 which he received, $306.00 was for damages by delay.Mr. Granke wants to be an alderman. What do the people of the Fifth ward think about it?

WIVES THREATEN TROUBLE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—Unless all signs fail, the stockholders and officials of the Federal Steel company are in for some little trouble on account of the war munitions contract for foreign governments, which it is understood, has been placed with them. The trouble is likely to be caused by the wives of some of the men principally interested in the company because of their intense pro-German sympathies.But a married man's dollars won't last long unless his wife has sense.Quips and Cranks

Love

This is rare—
When a beloved hand is laid in ours,
When, jaded with the rush and glare
Of the interminable hours,
Our eyes can in another's eyes read clear,When our world-deafened ear
Is by the tones of a loved voice car-ressed—
A bolt is shot back somewhere in our brain,
And a lost pulse of feeling stirs
again,
The eye sinks inward, and the heart lies plain,
And what we mean to say, and what we would we know;
A man becomes aware of his life's flow,
And hears its winding murmur, and he sees
The meadows where it glides, the sun, the breeze.And there arrives a lull in the hot race
Wherein he doth forever chase
That flying and elusive shadow, rest.
An air of coolness plays upon his face,
And an unwonted calm pervades his breast,
And then he thinks he knows
The hills where his life rose,
And the sea where it goes.
—Matthew Arnold.One of Frank Fogarty's best is the one about Casey and Kerrigan at the ball game. They were late in getting in the park and the eighth inning was just starting. Said Casey to Kerrigan:
"What's the score?"
"The score is 0-0," answered Kerrigan.
"Well," said Casey, "we didn't miss much.""I want to be excused," said the worried looking jurymen, addressing the judge. "I owe a man $25 that I borrowed, and as he is leaving town today for some years I want to catch him before he gets to the train and pay him the money.""You are excused," returned his honor, in icy tones. "I don't want anybody on the jury who can lie like that."Narker entered a barber shop and, with a surly "Hair-cut-and-quick-about-it," sat down in the chair. Now, the barber was a chaffy fellow, as is the custom in his trade, and he did not know Narker. After a few preliminary touches he remarked:
"Hair very thin on top, sir.""Very glad to hear it," grunted Narker. "Hate fat hair myself!"It was in a suburban barber shop and a farmer with a week's growth of stubby beard had seated himself in a chair to have his whiskers cropped."Guess you'll have a time gittin' them off," he remarked as the barber began rubbing on the lather."Oh, I don't know," said the barber, carelessly. "All beards look alike to me.""Wunst I went into a barber shop to get shaved," resumed the farmer,
"and after the barber was done and I was payin' him he remarked: 'Say, old man, if all beards was like yours I'd quit the barber business.' I sez to him, I sez: 'Well, you haven't got anything on me, old man. If allbeards was like you I'd let my beard grow.'""One day," said the lecturer, "I was in a country store when a sweet little 4 year old girl came toddling in and bought a nickel's worth of candy. A little kitten rubbed against her leg and purred. She laid her candy down on a box to play with the kitten. When she tired of play she went to get her candy again.
But it was gone. Some one had stolen it. Her little face became sad. Something seemed to choke her. Big tears welled up in her eyes and rolled down her cheeks.
Poor little thing! I felt so sorry for her that I gave her a stick of ice cream to cheer her!"A man who, with his wife, is employed on a truck farm in New Jersey found himself in a bad predicament, when, in attempting to evade the onslaughts of a savage dog, assistance came in the shape of his wife.When the woman came up, the dog had fastened his teeth in the back of her husband's leg and was holding on for dear life. Seizing a stone in the road, the man's wife was about to hurl it, when the husband, with wonderful presence of mind, shouted:
"Mary! Mary! Don't throw the stone at the dog! Throw it at me!"It was an amateur performance of "The Pirates of Penzance." The police-men's chorus having been encor-ded twice, a third encore was demanded. This was the cause of some misunderstanding behind the scenes and, after a delay, one solitary man in blue faced the footlights. In vain he waited for his companions, even beckoning them in his despair, but his individual efforts were not to meet with appreciation, for a voice from the gods shouted: "Hi, man, you're off your beat!"

A Second "Under Two Flags"

THE RED
MIRAGE

By L. A. R. WYLIE

Author of "The Native Born," "The Daughter of Brahma," Etc.

Copyright The Hobbs-Merrill Company.

Corporal Gotz hesitated an instant before the man thus summarized. He measured him, and the recruit answered the keen deliberate gaze with the same steadfastness. A mutual recognition had been acknowledged, steel had rung against steel. Then suddenly the recruit's fiery blue eyes focused themselves on something beyond, and their expression—that of a man started into an instant's self-betrayal—caused the corporal to turn sharply.A rare vision had appeared in the dull colorless square. The iron gates had been opened, and against the background of the green avenue beyond there stood a woman—a slender beautiful woman, such as but few of the lost degraded inhabitants of those white walls had ever seen.
She came slowly toward them, the lace sunshade framing the lovely golden head, her soft muslin dress revealing each movement as something exquisitely balanced, absolutely free and confident in its youthful grace and health."Colonel Destin," she said, "I hope you are not angry with me. I have come to find my husband."He lifted his hand reluctantly but instinctively to his kept."I heard that Captain Arnaud's wife had arrived," he said roughly.
"Permit me to inform you that Captain Arnaud left the barracks half an hour ago, also that you have no business here and are interfering with my business. The sentry should not have let you pass.""He did not want to," she explained, "but I told him that I knew you and that you would be furious if he refused.""Whereby, Madame, you over-stepped the limits of truth.""Pardon me, I do know you. But since I intrude, I will make good my return. Good evening, my Colonel."She turned her back on him and began to walk with untroubled dignity toward the gate. For an instant he hesitated, then overtook her."I have a word to say to the sentry."Kidney and Bladder Trouble Causes Great DistressIt gives me great pleasure to recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one suffering from bladder trouble.For four years I was troubled by hemorrhages from the bladder and was not able to get any doctor who could help me. I was in such shape that sleep at night was impossible on account of distressing symptoms.
While bending over I would be stricken with such a pain that it was impossible for me to straighten up. Mr. Henry, one of our leading druggists, advised Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root; although I never had any faith in patent medicines, as a last resort I purchased a dollar bottle of Swamp-Root. I noticed a decided change and after using two bottles I was completely cured. It seemed remarkable that I should be cured so quickly after being ill so long. But since this took place nearly two years ago, I have never been troubled and would highly advise any one suffering from the same trouble to at least give Swamp-Root a trial and I think the results will be the same as mine.Yours very truly,

GERMANS CHARGED WITH A TOO FREE USE OF THE KNIFE

Open Charges of "Unconservative Surgery" Made Against German Surgeons by French

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, March 18.—(By Mail to New York.)—Open charges are now being made in Paris that the German military surgeons have made a more frequent use of the knife at the expense of legs and arms of French prisoners than modern curative science might have rendered necessary.

Two thousand six hundred French prisoners, whose mutilations are so serious that they can never serve again as soldiers, are now being returned to France from Germany. Against this number France has only 1,000 mutilated Germans to return.

While a certain number of these on both side are rendered incapable of further service on account of blindness, yet the great bulk are suffering from the loss of arms and legs. Not only the difference in the total figures but also the disproportion between French and Germans of those who have suffered amputations is what has aroused in France first indignation, then suspicion and finally open charges.

"Is It Necessary?"
"Have all amputations that have taken place amongst French prisoners in Germany been really necessary?" is the demand now going up. Amongst an equal number of German and French wounded in the German hospitals, where Germany has had every possible interest not to render unfit for further service a single German soldier more than was necessary and where such a consideration has not existed on behalf of the French have the latter had the benefit of all the curative science that was unquestionably exercised on behalf of the former? This is another thing which France is openly demanding.

In addition French surgeons are pointing out that surgery as practiced in France is distinctly of the "conservative" type. A member is never sacrificed that can in any way possibly be saved. Even in the military hospitals where the latter have been filled with the enemy's wounded this principle has never been abandoned. But what France wants to know is that even if German surgeons as a rule are followers of this method—something of which the French surgeons are openly doubtful—was it applied with the same impartiality to the French wounded who fell into the hands of the Germans as it was to their own?

Exchange Prisoners
Up to the present moment Germany has shown the most alertness in preparing for the exchange of these soldiers. Whether or not her scarcity of food is responsible for this is not known. The entire number of 2,600 are now gathered at Constance, Switzerland, where arrangements have just been completed by the Swiss government for their transportation into France. This will begin next week.

Special trains have been provided each one of which will carry 250 of the helpless men. They will not only be in charge of sisters of the various Catholic orders and Red Cross nurses but each train will have at its head a military commander. They will travel only at night and will have the right of way over all other traffic on the Swiss railways. The last possible precaution has been taken not only for their safety but for every possible care and comfort until they are finally turned over to France.

Germans at Lyons
The German mutilated soldiers who are to be exchanged are now being gotten together at Lyons. They will not number 1,000, as the French insist that through the care of the French surgeons hundreds of German wounded were saved from amputations or other operations that would have rendered them unfit for service. Those, however, for whom there was no chance, but whose lives at least were saved, are now being taken at Lyons with every possible care from the military hospitals at Bourg, Roanne, Limoges, Saint-Yrieix and other points. When the entire number is assembled the exchange will begin.

LONDON, April 2.—A League of Rights for Soldiers' and Sailors' Wives has been formed for the special purpose of protecting their interests in the matter of the payment of separation allowances. French Remedy Aids Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieve stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

Easter Means Style to the Well-Dressed

The Stein-Bloch Label on a Suit or Top Coat Stands as a Warranty----

Warranty of what? That fabrics are the best, dollar for dollar, to be had. That style is right because it is Stein-Bloch style.

All of that—and then this other thing so rare in clothes now-a-days: Every stitch is there, and every stitch is right.

That's why the clothes and the label stand up together through months and months of wear.

That's why the Stein-Bloch label means clothes distinction that sticks.

CITY TEAMS WILL GET OUT FOR WORK ON EASTER SUNDAY

Athletes and Nelsons Will Be Seen with Diamond Paraphernalia for
First Time

PRACTICE SEASON TO BE ACTIVE

Men Will Be Put Through Hard Work in Preparation for Opening
Games

Easter Sunday, if it be balmy, will see the first real baseball practice of the year. Local teams, notably the Nelsons and Athletes, will take the padded mits and the balls and the sticks and make their way to the practice grounds to unloose a few of the kinks lodged during the winter.

That the training season will be a session of real work for the men of the two teams is the promise of both Managers Krause of the Athletes and Comeau of the Nelsons. Prodding by experience gained in other seasons, the leaders have resolved to have their players in the best of shape for the opening games of the year.

Copeland park for the Nelsons and the high school campus for the Athletes have been chosen as the practice grounds of the two La Crosse teams organized at present. Copeland park has been in good condition for a week past and the high school grounds have been used for some time by high school men. The Athletes will use league park after it has dried sufficiently. At present it is a sea of mud.

The baseball situation, as it now stacks up, will this season be a scramble between the Athletes and the Nelsons for city honors. Other teams are expected to organize but they are not expected to be of championship calibre. The cream of last year's Eagles, city champions, has been about equally divided between the teams now set up. The Burlington Trainmen and the Summits are expected to call organization meetings soon. The present outlook is that the Eagles will not be on the diamond this year.

"I'm after the state championship," is the way in which Theo Comeau, manager of the Nelsons, looks forward to the coming season. Comeau last year managed the Onalaska Opacops, claimants of the state amateur title. With Roeder, Beranek, Fitzki, Woll and Keaveny of last year's Eagles, he promises in a fair way to turn the trick. Besides, he has many of the individual stars of the last year's Nelsons.

"You can look to the Athletes to carry off the title of this section of the state," replies Manager Bill Krause, the Athletes' leader, to the statement of the north side mentor. And Bill has talent of no mean ability. In the pitching line Krause will have the services of Fay Copsey, last year's star of the Clothiers, besides Ed Weigel and possibly Merritt Bell who last year played professional ball in Canada. Bell intends to spend the summer around La Crosse.

JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT WILL BE ON LEVEL SAYS FARIS

United Press Man Says
There Is No Chance of Johnson Throwing
the Mix

JACK OUT TO WIN QUICKLY

The Black Feels That to Lose Would Mean the Curtain for His Career

BY BARRY FARIS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
HAVANA, April 2.—The Johnson-Willard fight will be on the level; certainly as far as Johnson is concerned. There isn't the slightest chance of its being thrown.

I make this assertion with confidence, following a long talk with the champion today. Also, Johnson is utterly, supremely confident that he cannot lose.

Johnson will not "lay down" before Willard. It will be a stand-up, knock-down, drag-out battle from the "dark" corner of the ring. Johnson is out to win—and quickly.

Johnson's talk with me gave every sign of frankness and candor. With him it's a question of coin. He realizes that retention of the title means more than a fortune. He feels that if he lost he'd be a "dead coon" financially. He realizes fully that if he loses he wouldn't ever draw a five cent piece anywhere as an ex-champion. With the title again tucked firmly under his belt, Johnson thinks his exchequer will never want and that he will be good for big money any time and anywhere—except for his enforced absence from "the states."

After tucking away Willard, Johnson plans a harvest on a tour of South America and France. "I'll admit I haven't worked my head off," Johnson told me today. "I don't have to. Look me over. Feel of my muscles. You won't find a soft spot anywhere. I am ready for the going right now. For weeks I've trained easily but steadily, gradually working back into my present fit condition."

"Willard is a novice, anyway. I'll admit he is a big fellow, young and strong. But there's nothing to it. He isn't the first big young fellow I've put away. He hasn't a chance. Put your money on Lil Artha."

Johnson's confidence of winning verges upon arrogance. He derides and ridicules Willard's chances. Betting was still light today; there were plenty of jawbone wagers, but little real money is being covered.

BIRD PROTECTION

LAW STILL HOLDS

Department of Agriculture
Will Continue to Prosecute Illegal Killing of Migratory Birds

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Many of the press comments on the decision of the United States district court, rendered March 20, at Topeka, Kan., holding that the federal migratory bird law is unconstitutional, according to the United States department of agriculture, are erroneous and are apt to mislead the public concerning the real situation in this matter.

The Kansas decision, like a former decision to the same effect in the eastern district of Arkansas, is limited in its operation solely to the district in which it was rendered. Neither decision settles or nullifies the law, and the exact contrary has been held by the United States district court for South Dakota. The Arkansas case has been appealed to, and is now pending in the United States supreme court. The act of congress protecting migratory birds stands effective until the supreme court finally decides the question of its constitutionality. In the meantime, it is incumbent on every law-abiding citizen to observe its provisions and the regulations. It is the duty of the department of agriculture to enforce this law and the officials in charge will endeavor to do so as long as it is in force. Reports of violations will be carefully investigated and when sufficient evidence is secured they will be reported for prosecution. In this connection it should not be forgotten that an offender against this, as in the case of other United States laws, is subject to prosecution any time within three years from the date the offense is committed.

SOX BUY SAND LOTTERS

EL PASO, Texas, April 2.—Twelve hits and twelve runs were accumulated here by four members of Chicago's White Sox—J. Collins, E. Collins, Feisch and Blackburne. The slugging and base running of their mates made the total count, 18 to 1, against the local Sand Lotters.

TINKER HAS NEW PLAY

SHREVEPORT, La., April 2.—Joe Tinker has a new play which he expects will make the other teams open their eyes this season. It's a double squeeze, with two men scoring instead of one. Speed merchants are necessary to work it out, but it looks awfully good on paper.

GERMAN SHIP IS NOT PROVISIONED

It Is Not Thought That the Ship Would Attempt Dash Without Adequate Stores

LINERS BUSY AT NEW YORK

Seven German Ships Take on Coal Today; Contemplate Dash to Sea Is Rumor

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Though coaled for a voyage as far as Bremen, the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, at Newport News, was not yet provisioned for the trip, according to advices received at the treasury department today.

It was considered that the vessel certainly would not attempt to escape until this detail, too, was attended to, since, though it might secure some supplies by raiding, the method would be too precarious to be relied on by Commander Thierichens.

Officials here continued to believe the Eitel would intern after delaying to the past possible moment.

Liners in New York Coal
NEW YORK, April 2.—Seven big German liners, tied up at their docks here since the beginning of the war, were taking on coal today and fresh rumors spread about the harbor that they were preparing to dash out to sea. Coupled with this report came statements from captains of a number of incoming steamers that the British warships on guard off Sandy Hook for several months have disappeared.

The Hamburg-American steamers Pennsylvania, Hamburg and President Grant; the North German Lloyd vessels Princess Irene, Kaiser Wilhelm II, the George Washington, and the Pisa, were all busy coaling today. Officials of the German lines would offer no explanation for the unusual activity.

U. S. Destroyers on Guard
Two United States destroyers were on guard down the bay to prevent any vessel from leaving without clearance papers. But papers could be obtained in a few minutes and there would be nothing to prevent a quick dash to the open sea. There were other reports, however, that the activity around the docks of the German vessels was a bluff to draw off British and French warships.

Washington Unconcerned
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Commenting on news that German liners at New York were showing signs of activity, treasury officials, said this afternoon that they took it for granted clearance papers would be secured before any of the vessels attempted to sail.

In this event, they stated, there would be neither warrant for nor inclination to interfere with their departure.

EMPLOYERS AND PAINTERS FIRM

Both employers and painters were agreed today that there were no changes in the situation which developed yesterday when more than a score of union brush wielders quit work because of the refusal of three local employers to accede to the union's demand for 45 instead of 40 cents an hour. The heads of all the concerns which refused the men's demands were firm today in their declarations that they would hold to their refusal. The men said no overtures had been made to the employers, and that none would be made. Union headquarters have been opened at Mallin's hall, Fourth and Jay streets, and the men who are not at work are required to register at the hall twice daily.

REGULATIONS MAY OUST A. G. BURNETT
A. G. Burnett, government liquor ganger here, may be one of more than a thousand men serving the government in a similar capacity who will be deprived of jobs May 1, if regulations now being drafted by the internal revenue office are approved by the secretary of the treasury. The new regulations dispense with the services of gaugers at rectification houses, requiring the rectifier to perform the work himself. The position of ganger carries a salary of $1,000 a year. The new regulations, if approved, will take effect May 1.

GOVERNMENT WARNS ABOUT FAT CURES

Dangerous Drug Thyroid Is Used Commonly in "Obesity Cures" Says Government

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The department of agriculture, in a bulletin just issued on its recent investigations of anti-fat humbugs, states that a common ingredient of the obesity cures is thyroid, a drug from the thyroid gland which is still puzzling the medical world after years of study.

Thyroid, in the opinion of the government scientists, is far too dangerous a drug for inexperienced persons to experiment with.

"When used as a drug it has a very powerful effect on the whole human system and this information should be sufficient to warn anyone against dosing himself blindly with it," says the department's bulletin.

For medical use a number of sheep's thyroids are dried at a temperature of from 90 to 100 degrees and then powdered. This powder may be administered either dry, or when treated with glycerine, as a liquid.

"It indubitably does reduce tissue," says the department, "and therefore those preparations which contain it are especial favorites with those persons who desire to rid themselves of what they consider is superfluous flesh. Unfortunately it is not possible to remove tissue at will without running great risk of ruining health at the same time. Abnormal deposits of fat are frequently accompanied by disorders of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys. To remove these deposits abruptly may well produce serious mechanical effects upon the operation of the internal organs."

In man the thyroid gland is situated in the throat, in front of and on both sides of the larynx, and consists of two lateral lobes united by a narrow bridgelike central portion.

BRYAN REPORTS ON THRESHER CASE

Cabinet Takes Seriously the Case of the American Killed on the Falaba

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Bryan reported to the cabinet today concerning Leon C. Thresher, the American killed when a German submarine sank the steamship Falaba and Raymond Swoboda, charged in France with attempting to destroy the liner La Touraine.

The Thresher case was deemed the more serious, considering America's declaration that sacrifice of American lives through German submarine activities would be regarded as unfriendly. The point was made, however, that the protest to Germany was against interference with neutral ships or those flying the stars and stripes, whereas Thresher was on a British ship, under the British flag.

PAINTERS' LEADER PROPHESES PEACE

CHICAGO, April 2.—Within 24 hours after 3,000 painters and decorators had walked out, leaving hundreds of Loop buildings and apartment houses throughout the city incompleated, the labor shies cleared today. From J. A. Skemp, international president of the painters, came the announcement this afternoon that peace probably would be declared within seven days.

Divoky mounted a truss, fastened his hands to spikes, placed a noose around his neck and then kicked the truss away.

INQUIRY REVEALS SWOBODA INTIMATE WITH AUSTRIAN

Investigation Shows That Swoboda Last August Associated with One of Enemy

PARIS, April 2.—A judicial inquiry, it was announced today, has determined that Raymond Swoboda, suspected of setting fire to the French liner La Touraine, spent several nights last August with an Austrian named Prussth, who cannot now be found.

U. S. Can Take No Action
WASHINGTON, April 2.—The United States can take no action in the case of Raymond Swoboda, held in France on a charge of setting fire to La Touraine, until the French authorities place him on trial, it was stated at the state department today.

Swoboda Was Chauffeur
NEW YORK, April 2.—More light was thrown today upon affiliations here of Raymond Swoboda, the American arrested in Paris as an alleged German spy charged with attempting to fire the steamer La Touraine.

Two sisters, Katherine and Charlotte Polillon, prominent in Broadway's calcium, today admitted knowing Swoboda, when he was here last January. Thomas Hooper, business associate of Swoboda in selling the allies supplies, today declared that during the war hard times in Paris Swoboda worked as a chauffeur, and that Swoboda's baggage was searched and shipment of gasoline refused when he boarded La Touraine here.

The authorities issued a statement today declaring the American consulate has denied that Swoboda registered as an American citizen upon his arrival in France.

The broker's friends asserted the discovery of military equipment from America in Swoboda's trunks supported his claim that he came to France aboard the French liner to negotiate with the French authorities for the sale of military supplies.

The judicial investigation into the charges against Swoboda will be continued at Havre tomorrow.

"POPH YOM AM" TO BOOST CHURCH

Poph Yom Am, a young men's club of Immanuel Lutheran church, Avon and St. Paul streets, was organized last night at a meeting at the church. The Good Times club, which is a free translation of the odd Hebrew name, was formed for the express purpose of conducting a church membership campaign and of forming a more intimate acquaintanceship among the young men of the church.

Officers elected last night were: Henry Brinkman, president; Emanuel Brinkman, vice president; Melvin Pierce, secretary and treasurer; C. F. Pape, advisor.

CHAUFFEUR HELD IN FUERY CASE

CHICAGO, April 2.—Unexpected developments which have arisen in the past 24 hours, today compelled the police to withdraw their announced belief that Mrs. Evelyn Fuery, whose body was found in her office at the Dietzen company factory where she worked, met death from natural causes.

The police questioned Joseph Fritz, a chauffeur, who said he was to marry Mrs. Fuery as soon as she obtained a divorce from her husband.

German Olympic Official Is Killed

Captain Roeseler

The frightful mortality in the great war among men connected with amateur athletics has caused American followers of the sport to doubt the possibility of holding international Olympic competitions for years to come. The last athletic official to lay down his life for his country is Captain Roeseler, who was prominently connected with the Imperial German Olympic committee and said to be the first man to propose the holding of the 1916 Olympic games at Berlin. Captain Roeseler was killed at the head of his company in a desperate charge when the Kaiser's men were driving the Russians headlong through the Manchurian lakes region.

NORMAL CHORUS PLANS ITS DEBUT

Will Sing "Messiah" at the First Session of State Music Teachers' Convention

MORE THAN 200 VOICES IN CLUB

Prof. Homer Cotton Well Satisfied with Progress of Pedagogue Singers

The Choral club of the La Crosse normal school will make its debut before the first session of the Wisconsin Music Teachers' association Monday evening, April 13, in La Crosse. It will be one of the banner musical events of the year for local and state music lovers.

More than 200 voices are daily preparing for their first public appearance the latter part of next month. Town people have been invited to take part in the chorus and Prof. Homer E. Cotton expects that the number of voices will be swelled on the evening of the 19th when 60 additional vocalists, including some of the best singers in the city, will assist the choral club.

Mr. Cotton Is Pleased
Final preparations for the eventful evening are being made by the officers of the society. Nothing will be spared, it is understood, to make the occasion one of the highest in La Crosse music circles for the year. Musical instructors from every part of the state are to be present so that the work of the chorus will be under the critical eye of those teachers who are considered experts in their field. Mr. Cotton said on Saturday that he was highly pleased with the character of the work that has been performed so far. The entire songsters' club thunders forth the stupendous "Hallelujah" chorus in a manner, he said, that should even please the musical fastidious. And with the polish which he plans to administer during the next three weeks, everything today indicates success.

Drilled for Months
The choral club was organized last November, with the express purpose of giving the Messiah. Officers were chosen and work commenced immediately on the oratorio. When the call was issued for candidates over 200 young men and women responded. Musical celebrities in the city stated that they would be glad to assist on the final night. The orchestra has practiced continually and several times during the month has accompanied the chorus.

Mr. Cotton has been in communication with several eminent singers to take the solo parts. Arrangements have not been completed, however. He is not ready to make his announcement of the assistants.

First Heard in Ireland
The Messiah is one of the most famous musical productions. It is an oratorio by Handel; libretto from the Holy Scripture is by Charles Jennens. Its composition has survived the time in which it was written, August 22, 1741, and doubtless will remain popular for ages to come. The original composition was completed in 24 days.

It was first performed in Dublin, Ireland, for the benefit of the Society for Relieving Prisoners, the Charitable Infirmary and Mercer's hospital.

The historical Covent Garden theater was the scene in 1743 of its first performance in England. Later it was revived by Handel, while still later Mozart and Robert Franz composed additional accompaniments.

F. G. Roth, one of the jurors, was excused when it was learned that he was a cousin of Philip Roth, C. W. Tisdale, A. Holbeck, W. S. Moss, C. E. Klein and Wells Bennett were the remaining jurors. The case was continued with only five jurors upon consent of Attorney George W. Bunge, representing the non-union men, and Attorney Hartwell.

EVENING WISCONSIN IS MADE OFFICIAL PAPER OF STATE

MADISON, Wis., April 2.—Tory democrats in the senate this morning swung the balance of power which passed the bill providing that the Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee, be made the official paper. They are Albers, Biehler, Jennings, Kellogg, Mulberger and Staudenberger. The bill originally provided that the Madison Democrat be designated as the official paper, but this was amended because of the protest raised by union labor.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—Skids towards adjournment of the state legislature are being greased. It was originally planned to adjourn today, Good Friday, in readiness for the forthcoming constitutional convention.

Item Welcomed By Many Men

This recipe can be filled at home, so that no one need know of another's troubles, as the ingredients can be obtained separately at any well stocked drug store. They are in regular use and many different prescriptions are constantly being filled with them.

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing, and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment can be prepared secretly at home and taken without any one's knowledge.

Overworked office men and the many victims of society's late hours and dissipation will, it is said, find the restorative they are in need of.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary Syrup sarsaparilla compound and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring.

A certain well-known medical expert asserts that thousands of men and many women are sufferers all because of dormant circulation of the blood and a consequential impairment of the nervous force, which begets the most dreadful symptoms and untold misery.

PARK WORK WILL START APRIL 15.

Dredge to Suck Gravel from River Bed for Drive in Riverside Park

Work on finishing the northern end of Riverside park will be started about April 15, according to Park Superintendent James H. Forrer. A dredge boat will be put at work in a few days to dredge gravel from the river bed for use on the unfinished portions of the park drive. Work on the other La Crosse parks will be commenced about April 15.

TURKEY WILL STAND PAT SAYS CONSUL

ROME, April 2.—The newspaper Giornale d'Italia today printed interviews with both the Turkish and Russian ambassadors, denying Swiss reports to the effect that Turkey was attempting to negotiate a separate peace with Russia. The Russian ambassador, M. Kroupenski, said that Russia would never abandon her original intention of concluding no peace without without consulting

LA CROSSE GETS AIR MESSAGES FROM ATLANTIC

E. W. Parker's Wireless Aerials Catch Waves from Arlington and Sayville, L. I.

ONLY RECEIVING SET IS IN USE

Was Built by Ray Harris of La Crosse, a Former Operator in the Navy

La Crosse is one of the few cities of the northwest equipped with a wireless station, capable of receiving messages from long distances. The station set up and operated by Ray Harris at the Parker Jewelry shop can receive messages from a radius of 2,500 miles. Messages sent out by the government station at Arlington, Va., can easily be heard here and other stations on this side of Arlington with less powerful apparatus, can also be heard.

Mr. Parker had the station installed so that he might get the correct time from Washington. He receives reports from that city at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 9 o'clock in the evening. Springfield time is received here at 8 p. m.

Only Receiving Set
Mr. Parker's apparatus is a receiving one only. It is made up of a receiving transformer with a 5,000 meter wave length having a range of 2,500 miles; a Galena detector; a variable condenser, consisting of 43 aluminum plates; and a fixed condenser with 3,000 ohm head cones. The outfit is what is known as a government type receiver. The aerials are on top of the Parker building and are 150 feet at one end and 65 feet high at the other. The wires, four in number, are 150 feet long, and composed of what is known as Silician bronze stranded cable. The wires are spaced two and a half feet apart. The system is grounded to one of the city water pipes.

Sender Worth Half Million
To construct the apparatus, which was done by Mr. Harris in the Parker laboratory, cost in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars. If a transmitting station were also established capable of sending messages as far as Arlington it would cost approximately a half million dollars.

Although constructed and set up early in the winter the station has been in operation only three weeks. When first set up the operator found that he was receiving all the TRIBUNE'S bulletins, due to the fact that the TRIBUNE wire runs through the alley where the ground was placed and the current in the TRIBUNE wire induced a current into the sensitive coil of Parker's instrument. Mr. Harris was unable to read the messages because the system used by the TRIBUNE, the Morse system, is different from the Continental code, which is used in wireless work. Eleven of the letters are different, and all the numerals.

Get War News from Sayville
After the station started work it was found that messages from many points could be easily received here. In this manner war bulletins from Sayville, N. Y., have been received and also messages from Arlington, Va. A short time ago a message from that government station to Key West was interpreted here which was bound for a battleship near Florida. Fight returns and athletic news are often heard also.

There is a station at Milwaukee which is of almost the same power as the local station but for some unknown reason that station is unable to hear Arlington. In a short time it is expected that the Great Lakes stations will be put into operation again. They are not now being operated on account of the navigation being closed. Then La Crosse will be able to get news of local interest.

No Canadian Messages
No Canadian reports are intercepted, as all stations there are now operated by the government and tuned to a certain unknown wave length.

Ray Harris, who installed the apparatus, is a graduate from a government school of electricity and wireless work and has spent three years in the service of the government on ships as an operator. He first spent one year at the Navy Electrical Academy at Brooklyn, where he completed a course in wireless and electrical work. He was then sent to Arlington to study the apparatus. He remained there for three months after which he served in the navy as an operator. The Arlington transmitter is a hundred kilowatt instrument with a range of from three thousand to thirty-five hundred miles. Messages can be sent from that station to the government station at Mare Island, Cal. The local station has been unable to receive any messages from California as yet because the instruments are not tuned to the same wave lengths.

PLEADS FOR LIFE

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 2.—"Auction Bridge and race suicides are cause and effect."

"The hotel child and the cafeteria husband are two of the most pitiful objects in the world."

Miss Lottie Stearns, official lecturer of the American Federation of Women's Clubs, said these things to local club women, urging "old fashioned homes and babies."

"So-called family hotels and boarding houses, when compared to the home, are like incubators, the mechanical imitation of living reality," declared Miss Stearns. Modern inventions and conveniences that remove from home work much of the tire some drudgery place upon woman the moral responsibility of making proper use of their spare time, she stated.

"MINING" FOR HAY

PIERRE, S. D., April 2.—Mining for hay has been made necessary here by the heavy snows. Sleds are run across a field, to a point where farmers' maps tell there should be a stack of hay. A force of men then starts digging, until they find the hay. Men go into the "shaft" thus formed, and throw the hay into the sleds.

Sciatica, Its Cause and Cure

"Sciatica," according to Dr. Twitney of Columbia, "is a disease due either to pressure of tumors on the sciatic nerve, some where in the pelvis or in the nerve trunk or to neuralgia, and it is characterized by severe pain. It is very often follows lumbago; some cases are caused by impacted feces pressing upon the nerve. Sciatica attacks women more often than men, children being very seldom affected, and between the ages of 30 and 50 the disease is most common. Gout and rheumatism seem to be the active causes of the disease, which is therefore called sciatic rheumatism. The treatment is varied and many remedies have been tried without success. Rest is the best thing for the trouble, and the more profound it is, the better, and if possible have the limb encased in a splint, so as to prevent any motion. The pain is the most important thing to relieve. Counter irritants, mustard plasters, iodine, etc., have been tried with more or less temporary benefit. Cold applications have proven of value. However, I have found Anti-Kamila Tablets to give the most prompt and lasting relief. Two A-K tablets every three hours is the dose which has proven satisfactory in the most severe cases." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are unequalled for headaches, neuralgia, and all pains.

HORSE FANCIERS GATHER IN MEXICO

MEXICO, Mo., April 2.—Mexico, ordinarily probably the "hottest" horse town in the country today, is given over to horse buyers here from all sections of the United States to attend the annual spring sale of saddle and harness animals. Despite the fact that thousands of handsome specimens have been sent from Missouri to European battlefields, local and visiting horsemen say the array of stock for the spring sale is one of the best seen in many years.

Mexico practically lives on horses.
Horse-raising and horse-training comprise the city's principal industry. Any baby boy in Mexico who at the age of ten months or so can't babble something that sounds like
"horse" is pitted.
Mexico's only great hero was a horse. Rex McDonald was his name.

Rey was a champion of champion stallions and when he died there was a genuine grief throughout the city.
Rey's memory is going to be perpetuated by a memorial fountain now being erected.

PARIS PROTECTED BY AERIAL POLICE

French Aviators Comb Skies
Nightly to Guard Against Zeppelin
Raids

PARIS, March 16.—(By Mail to New York.)—Paris is the only city in the world to date enjoying a regularly organized aerial night police service.

Since the recent Zeppelin threats by the Germans France has taken steps to guard herself against aerial marauders and especially those which might come prowling over Paris at night. While the average Parisian is enjoying a good night's rest, free from all worries of possible German bombs, French aviators are constantly flying over the city.

The night aeroplane force is divided up into squads and each squad flies for about four hours steady.
The air is thoroughly patrolled at various heights up to about 5,000 feet precluding the possibility of Zeppelins sneaking up without their presence being known.

The French air scouts fly at all times with lights extinguished except from time to time when for a moment when an electric flash is turned on to permit of the observation of their instruments. Temperatures taken recently by the night aviators showed that the average is about 11 degrees above zero centigrade.

As each squad returns to earth
after four hours of service its place is immediately taken in the air by a fresh detachment. The service is continued until the approach of day makes observation possible from the earth.

As a result of this and other precautions "Le Temps" states that the only effect up-to-date of Germany's Zeppelin threats against both Paris and London has been a great and highly salubrious reduction in the municipal gas and electric light bills at night.

BILL BOARD "TRUST" IN FEDERAL COURT

CHICAGO, April 2.—Civic clubs throughout the United States fighting the "bill board menace" may be spared the trouble of further prosecuting their municipal campaigns against the "clear view obstructions." In an anti-trust suit set for trial before Federal Judge K. M.
Landis here yesterday, United States District Attorney Charles F. Clynne is seeking to dissolve the American Bill Posters' association which, he asserts, controls 40,000 alleged "eye sores" from Gotham to Frisco.

"We hope to stop this monopoly of 'vacant lot' space," Clynne asserted in opening the case. "Opponents of the bill boards everywhere have not been fighting a local situation—they have bucked up against a big trust.
The government hopes to stop the bill board evil at the fountain head."

Week's Offering In Movieland As Seen in La Crosse

By N. D. Tevis

Marguerite Clark's startlingly real presentation of "The Goose Girl," one of the stage plays which brought her fame, and "The Deep Purple," another formerly popular stage production, held interest with the movie fans of La Crosse during the early part of the week.

Casino Closed Today

Following the practice of years past, F. J. McWilliams of the Casino has closed the doors of his theater today, and Good Friday thus sees La Crosse minus one moving picture theater.

Longer features gave way during the week to shorter programs. The best known actors on "screenland" were seen in short productions, divided between the picture houses.

Edward Abeles Today

Edward Abeles, whom stage and picture followers have grown to recognize as "the hero of Brewster's millions," is in town today, featuring "After Five," said by moving picture critics to be "the funniest picture ever produced." The picture will run tonight and tomorrow at the Bijou.

Fans of the flickering lights have two distinct treats in store next week, when Manager McWilliams of the Casino will offer "Williamson's Under the Sea" pictures; and Manager Burford of the Bijou, presents Mary Pickford, the always popular, in "Miss Nell," which the moving picture public of the land has been anxiously awaiting since its release was announced.

Large Numbers See Clark

Probably no larger audiences ever packed the Bijou than those which witnessed Miss Marguerite Clark in "The Goose Girl." Perfect sincerity of acting, and unassuming attitudes which are always Miss Clark's, and wonderful work in producing the picture, made it a memory that will stick and one that goes to make Miss Clark just a little more popular than she was.

Resume of the Week

A resume of the week at the Casino shows that interest was divided between "The Deep Purple," on Monday and Tuesday, "Runaway June," and "Thirteen Down," on Thursday. In the World Feature, "The Deep Purple" Miss Clara Kimball Young was the attraction, while on Thursday, Francis X. Bushman was the favorite.

As a tramp in a Chicago bread line, in the picture, "Thirteen Down," a story of the problem of "luck," Bushman was a hit. Bushman was the thirteenth man in the bread line, and looked little like the neatly clad man who closed the last scene. "Runaway June" helped fill the Casino Thursday.

Treats in Store

"After Five," playing now at the Bijou is a topsy-turvy comedy, filled with surprises and humorous situations. "Ted" the hero, played by Abeles, has invested all his property and also the money of his ward, "Nora" whom he loves, in a stock exchange speculation which has seemingly been disastrous. The picture ends with "Ted" trying to escape from his own plot.

"Miss Nell," with Mary Pickford, follows Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Bijou. "Miss Nell" is considered the greatest heroine of historic and romantic drama and as personified by Miss Pickford is a character of delightful femininity combined with the dramatic force inherent in all the works of this gifted star.

The Bijou predicts great success with Gabrys Deslys, the internationally famous star, when she will appear in pictures in "Her Triumph," an original subject adopted for the screen.

Teaching Alsatian Children His Language

The soldier shown in this photograph is one of the happiest in the French army. He has reconquered a part of Alsace, and to that extent he has fulfilled the dream of every Frenchman, the retaking of Alsace and Lorraine. In a part of this German territory captured from France in the Franco-Prussian war he is teaching little children who have been brought up as Germans, but who are French by blood, how to speak and read the language he considers their own.

M'CARTHY LEAVES POST WITH INDUSTRIAL INQUIRY BOARD

Wisconsin Expert's Resignation is Unanimously Accepted at Executive Session of Federal Commission

CHICAGO, April 2.—It became generally known today for the first time that Charles McCarthy, of the Wisconsin legislative reference bureau, who has been director of research and investigation for the industrial relations commission since last June, resigned following the executive sessions of the commission held here March 10-13. The resignation was "unanimously accepted," Basil M. Hanly, formerly director of public hearings, succeeded McCarthy. Officials at the commission today admitted McCarthy had severed relations with the investigating body but refused to comment.

Missionary Doctor Saves 3,000 Syrians

Dr. Harry P. Packard

Dispatches and letters from Urumiah, sixty-five miles southwest of Tabriz, in northwestern Persia, say that the American Presbyterian missionaries station there are in great danger, as Turkish regular troops and Kurds are persecuting and massacring Syrian Christians.

An act of heroism by Harry P. Packard, doctor of the missionary station at Urumiah of the Presbyterian church, saved the lives of 3,000 Syrians at Geogtapa, where they had made a last stand before their persecutors. Their ammunition was gone after a three days' fight and a massacre was imminent, when Dr. Packard, with an American flag in his hand, advanced between the lines. The Turks and Kurds thereupon withdrew, and all the Syrians escaped, except 200 who had been burned in a church.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the only real stomach regulator known.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

COMING OF SPRING BRINGS OUT CRAFT

Opening of the Waters Sees Much Activity in Boating Circles on the Coast

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, April 2.—"Sail, ho!" and also the new twentieth century "Gasoline ho!" are the halls of sea, bay and river for which ears of thousands are impatiently waiting today. With the advent of spring the call of the water is being answered by sailing and boating enthusiasts of near-by waters and also the whole North Atlantic seaboard.

Activities in boat yards, basins, rivers and creeks show preparations for summer cruising, racing, coasting service, excursion trips and houseboat parties. The whole water front is putting on its usual spring garb. Even the river espionage of the harbor police.

Wherever a boat was moored or drawn ashore last fall, there is bustle of action. New sails are being bent, new rigging and engines installed, fresh paint slathered and wood-work and hulls caulked, painted and varnished.

The fishing fleets, commercial and for amateur nimrods, are actively engaged in fitting out. The dollar-a-Sunday fishing trips will soon be in full blast. Sunday excursion boats, up the Hudson, on the Sound and out to sea are on the brink of public solicitation.

Gasoline Year

This is going to be a gasoline year, according to the outlook today. Motor boat builders are overwhelmed with work finishing orders placed last year. Some speedy races on the Hudson are already scheduled in the near future. The bon ton boat houses there and yacht clubs are also in the throes of seasonal preparation. Restaurants and road houses which seek the water patronage are being refurnished for another season. Colicase crews are taking the water in their shells.

Excursion boats between here and Albany, Boston, Providence, Atlantic City and the ocean resorts are planning early resumption of their regular summer schedules.

An interesting development of the war, too, is the prospect of a summer excursion rate war. Stagnation and tying up of both passenger and freight shipping by the war has disrupted normal traffic conditions. Owners of some of the ocean going craft are turning their attention to the coastwise trade, while the coasters, meeting new competition, are reported to be threatening invasion of the excursion field.

Incidentally "dollar" excursions to Atlantic City are already being advertised. Altogether it looks like a most enjoyable and maybe cheaper summer for devotees of the water.

Add "Stork Room" Railroad station officials here are wondering if a "stork room" must be the latest convenience to be given the traveling public. A recent "epidemic" of births on trains entering the city, and even in the big terminals themselves, has brought up the question of providing for the hasty newcomers. Several mothers have given birth recently to children on trains a few miles from the city. Within the last fortnight two children were ushered into the world in vast marble waiting rooms, soon after their mothers arrived in the stations. A special room to care for such cases is said to be under consideration by officials of one of the largest terminals here.

A "smoke squad" is New York's most proudest addition to its fire department and all New York is watching its baptism of fire. The squad consists of a company especially equipped to fight fire where unusually dense smoke or fumes prevail. They are equipped with oxygen helmets and air-conveying contrivances, with pulmotors for revival of victims. The company is located in the more congested lower section of the city, is composed of veteran fire fighters and is given the post of honor at the hardest fire with the doubtful privilege of being the first to enter burning buildings after the salvage squads.

The earth's greatest diameter is not necessarily at the equator. According to the eminent Professor Henke, the actual greatest diameter is that taken from the summit of Mount Chimborazo. The line drawn from this point to the opposite side on a point in Sumatra gives a diameter of 7,929 miles.

Field Marshals. The "baton" borne by generals in the French armies and by the marshals of other nations is emblematic purely—simply a mark of their office. The title of "field marshal" is not known in the United States army.

FRANCE TAKES WELL TO ABSINTHE BAN

Dealers Insist That the Government Reimburse Them for Loss to Stocks

PARIS, March 20.—(By Mail to New York)—Suppression by parliamentary action of the sale of absinthe is not setting France agog.

The retail liquor dealers are making no opposition, insisting only that the government reimburse them for the loss of their stocks on hand. These alone amount to some 5,000,000 litres, valued at $6,000,000, this figure including the duties already paid the government on the liquor. The dealers say they will accept treasury bonds for that amount.

The suppression of the sale which has left a terrible trail of mental and physical wrecks behind it in France is one of the direct results of the war. A temporary suppression as a precautionary war measure met with such universal approval, and so little opposition owing to the state of war, that the fighters of the insidious liquor saw their opportunity for pushing their fight onto the floors of parliament.

M. Henri Schmidt, appointed by the chamber of deputies to draw up a report on the proposed suppression law, presented startling figures on the havoc wrought by absinthe in France. The liquor, he stated, is the most highly alcoholized of all drinks. It contains from 65 to 72 per cent of alcohol besides strong essences that make it particularly harmful.

Out of 9,944 cases of delirium tremens examined, 1,625 were found due to absinthe alone. The same investigation shows that where beer produces one case of delirium tremens, wine 4, cider 32, alcohol 77, liquors 143, and aperitifs 170, absinthe is responsible for 246.

The path to success is paved with good intentions that were carried out.

FAMOUS MINSTREL MAN WILL APPEAR

Add Hoyt at Head of Company of Seven Singers Is to Lead Vaudeville at Majestic

ACT TO BE REAL MUSICAL TREAT

Diversified Bill of Entertaining Vaudeville Also Booked for Easter
Show

For the vaudeville patrons who like male chorus singing, and for those not vaudeville patrons who are fond of harmony singing and pleasant male voices, the Majestic theater has much to offer at the show which will open next Sunday matinee. Vaudeville will be resumed after a half-week of darkness at the local house with a bully good bill headed by Add Hoyt's famous minstrels, one of the best aggregations of male singers now in the varieties.

Add Hoyt is leading the company at the "Bones" end of the line. At the other end is "Tambo" John Forsman, and in the middle is suave and polished William H. Maxwell, inter-locutor. Scattered along the line are Lew Russell, contra-tenor, John Thomas and Leo Pelletier, tenors, and Herbert Clarke, basso. Thomas, a native Welshman, has one of the traditionally sweet, high tenor voices for which the rugged mountains of Wales are famous.

Their program is made up of the freshest and most appealing of recent popular melodies. Thomas, Forsman and Pelletier each have solo numbers, and Hoyt is always good for three encores with his side-splitting parody "The Old Fall River Line." The act is opened and closed with chorus numbers which bring out the full effect of the seven splendid male voices in rich harmony and volume.

The rest of the bill is pleasantly conceived for general entertainment, including one instrumental offering that is certain to please. This is the act of H. K. Guerrero and Mlle. Olga Cameron. Guerrero is a violinist, and Mlle. Cameron plays the harp. The combination of the two instruments is said to be unusually beautiful. There will be many a hearty laugh elicited by Jarrow, the talking musician, and "Just from Brazil," a comedy skit featuring Max Cooper and Irene Ricardo. And the Rath brothers, a team of skilful athletes, have some new ideas in the line of unusual and entertaining feats of strength and dexterity, which are sure to please.

NEW HUMAN RACE

DALLAS, Texas, April 2.—A new race of men is beginning to appear in America according to Miss Annie McQueen, a theosophist lecturer. This race, she asserts, will have the sixth sense; that is, will be able to live consistently in the "astral body" and the "physical body" at the same time and while in normal condition in every day life. For example, this new race will be able to look through objects as an X-ray does.

Miss McQueen gave the following explanation of the relation of birth to environment:

"In seeking reincarnation the ego looks for a suitable environment. All the savages are not in South Africa. They find a congenial environment in the slums of our cities and appear there instead of in the wilds of heathen lands. So long as our cities tolerate slums they may expect that they will attract savages."

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

WANT PRISONERS CARRIED AS SHIELD FOR BRITISH SHIPS

Shipping Interests Suggest
Plan to Protect Ships
Against German
Torpedoes

LONDON, April 2.—Torpedoing of three more British merchant steamers with a loss of thirty lives, has brought new demands for reprisals today from English shipping firms. They proposed that German prisoners of war be placed aboard all English vessels traversing the German "war zone" as a safeguard against submarine attacks.

Dispatches from Lisbon early today reported that the British steamer South Point, reported lost in a storm off Cape Finisterre, was torpedoed by the German submarine U-28 while returning to Philadelphia, after taking a flour cargo to Belgium. The crew was landed at Lisbon. The admiral today officially confirmed the torpedoing of the steamers Seven Seas and Emma with a loss of thirty lives. From Leith, Scotland, came another report of an aerial attack upon a British steamer. A German plane circled over the Staffa, but was frightened off when her captain fired two rockets.

ASKS ADMISSION OF POTASH TO U. S.

Bryan Asks Allies to Permit Shipments; Germany Agrees Conditionally to the Plan

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, via The Hague, April 2.—Secretary of State Bryan, according to information here, is using his utmost endeavors to have the allies lift the German blockade sufficiently to permit the exportation of potash from Germany to the United States for use in the manufacture of fertilizer.

Germany has notified Ambassador Gerard that she will permit the exportation of potash on returning neutral ships bringing cotton to Germany, providing the potash is consigned to an agent of the American department of commerce. An American cotton ship with a cargo destined for Germany, reached Rotterdam Wednesday. Another steamer arrived at Bremen with a cargo of typewriters and cameras.

Joy in Service.

A life lived for self can never be good nor great. There is only one way to save a life and that is to lose it in service to others. Every child is entitled to a chance "to do the things" which he is able to do for others. Service of this kind brings home the highest joy as the years come and go. It is true, this "doing" affords in childhood days an outlet for physical energy; but better than that it forms the habit of living for others, which will some day prove to be a fountain of perennial joy to him.

DETROIT TO OWN CARS

DETROIT, Mich., April 2.—Stockholders of the Detroit United Railway today authorized the directors of their company to close negotiations with the city of Detroit for the sale of the city street railway lines to the municipality. Terms of the deal as approved by the stockholders are that the city shall assume the bonded indebtedness of $24,900,000 on the city lines. Ratification of the purchase price by the voters is necessary.

And He Did.

A country deacon went home one evening and complained to his wife that he had been abused down at the store shamefully. "One of the neighbors," he said, "called me a liar." Her eyes flashed with indignation. "Why didn't you tell him to prove it?" she exclaimed. "That's the very thing—that's the trouble," replied the husband; "I told him to prove it, and he did."

It Vanished.

"Now," said the great magician, rolling up his sleeves to show that he had no concealed mechanism to deceive the eye, "I shall attempt my never-failing experiment." Taking from his pocket a five-dollar bill, he said: "I shall cause this bill to disappear utterly." So saying, he lent it to a friend.

HUSBAND TELLS OF DOUBLE MURDER

David Sharkey Confesses to Killing Wife and Baby at Starved Rock, Ill., Last Week

WAS NOT SUSPECTED AT FIRST

Suspicion Directed Toward Sharkey After Funeral and Confession Comes After Long Grilling

OTTAWA, Ill., April 2.—David Sharkey, the bodies of whose wife and eleven-months-old daughter were found in the ruins of his home on an island near Starved Rock last week, today confessed, the police say, that he murdered the woman and then set the fire which burned his baby to death and destroyed his house.

There was no suspicion against Sharkey until he began to talk after the funeral. Since Saturday, when he was arrested, he has stoutly maintained he knew nothing of how the fire started. After a continuous grilling of ten hours by Sheriff Davis, Sharkey early today broke down. He said he quarreled with his wife over her alleged friendship for another man. Sharkey said he knocked her unconscious. She was holding the baby at the time. He insisted the baby was unhurt when his wife fell. Then, according to the statement given out, Sharkey said he fired some papers and shavings under the kitchen and went away for several hours. Returning he found neighbors attempting to extinguish the fire.

MARCH IS CHILLY, SUNNY AND DRY

March, 1915, varied considerably from the normal for this month, according to the monthly meteorological summary issued today by Local Forecaster E. C. Thompson. Although the mean temperature, 30 degrees, was 1.4 degrees below the normal for the month of March, the month was not a gloomy one, the percentage of sunshine being 58. The amount of precipitation was also below normal, the report showing that a total precipitation of .49 inch occurred during March. This constitutes a deficiency of 1.08 inches from the average for the month for the past 35 years. The prevailing direction of the winds during March was from the northwest with a total movement of 4,071 miles. The average hourly velocity was 5.5 miles and the maximum velocity was 23 miles an hour, from the southwest.

Danger of Lockjaw in Felt.

That commercial gelatin, charcoal and other substances useful in medicine and surgery may contain the germs of lockjaw is well known. Quite recently it was found that felt so commonly used in orthopedic retentive dressings may also contain these germs in abundance. Two patients who had been treated at a German hospital lost their lives as a result of infection from the felt plates used to make a retention support.

Fast on the Wing.

Homing pigeons in calm weather can travel at a speed of 1,200 yards a minute. With a brisk wind prevailing and blowing in the direction of its flight, a pigeon has been known to make 1,900 yards a minute.

Remarkable Story is Told by Young Woman

GOLDA YATES

Another story telling in plain and convincing language just what Nature's Creation will do is told by Golda Yates, of Grantsburg (Crawford Co.), Ind., whose recovery is considered remarkable. She says she is sure Nature's Creation saved her life.

February, 1913, I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs," she writes. "I doctored with our home physician but he found he was doing me no good. I never went to sleep before midnight. I took my first bottle of Nature's Creation in June, 1913, and I never had a hemorrhage since. My friends did not think a year ago I would be alive to-day, but I found that Nature's Creation had cured me and nothing else would. I feel better now than I have for five years and everybody says I look better. I have a good appetite, sleep good and can work as well as I ever did. Am gaining in weight."

Any possible doubts as to the real merits of this remedy are removed not only by the above story but by records of hundreds of cases which are in our files and open to the public. These records show the power of Nature's Creation in cases of tuberculosis and conditions leading to it, such as weak lungs, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, rundown system and impure blood. To learn more, read our new booklet, "Truth," containing photos and testimonials from local parties. Write for free copy—M. L. Haymann, 417 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Business Is Good

CHICAGO, April 2.—In the weekly review of trade tomorrow, the John V. Farwell company will say: "Every indication points to a good fall 1915 business in woolen dress goods. The leading fabrics are well defined and of a very staple character. Foreign dress goods will be out of the market. There is legitimate cause for present advances and prospects for a scarcity of desirable merchandise later in the season."

"Late demands from merchants have taxed local cutters to the limit and created a sharp demand for many lines that manufacturers cannot deliver. This is especially noticeable in poplins, serges and shepherd checks. Popularity of black and white shepherd checks indicates they will run into the early fall."

Wouldn't Wash With- out "SKITCH"

And Why Should She? Think of Rubbing and Rubbing on Dirty Clothes When "SKITCH" Will Save It.

"Please send some SKITCH to my grocer," writes Mrs. F. K. Lewis, 37 Fortieth St., Milwaukee. "I have no more and won't wash this week till I get it."

That's the spirit, women. Away with the pesky washboard. SKITCH cleans clothes better than you can do it by rubbing.

A 10-cent package of SKITCH does seven washings and saves enough soap on each of the seven to pay for the whole package. Three teaspoonfuls takes the dirt right out of a boilerful of dirty clothes while you sit and rest. SKITCH can't hurt the finest garment ever woven.

Get a 10-cent package of SKITCH and throw your washboard away. Get it at any grocer or send for free sample to Hans Fichtenberg, 211 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

NEW ARRIVAL IN THE BRITISH CAMP "BUCKING THE BLANKET"

"Riding the goat," that mysterious process of initiating a newly elected member of a secret society, has nothing on the process of initiating a new arrival in the military camp. "Bucking the blanket" is almost on a par with "riding the goat." The photo shows a new arrival in the British camp—a brawny son of Scotland—who is being tossed up in a camp blanket. As a rule a recruit enters into the fun of being pleasantly "ragged" just as much as his comrades who put him through.

Man Who Killed

18-Year-Old Son

Admits on Stand That While Son Lay Dying She Was With His Slayer in Cell at Jail

CHICAGO, April 2.—Chicago marvelled today at Mrs. Eleanor Black. Dry eyed and emotionless she told a jury in criminal court that William Shipman, on trial for the murder of her 18-year-old son Albert, was not to blame. Then she admitted a moment later under cross examination that she had not visited her son as he lay dying in the hospital from stab wounds, and that on the day of his funeral she was in Shipman's cell at the county jail, giving him hope, and taking him delicacies. Shipman roomed at the Black home. The mother signed a statement about the stabbing in which she said Shipman had killed her son. On the eve of the coroner's inquest she disappeared and was found later with Shipman's friends. This signed statement she absolutely refused, saying she was forced to sign it.

"It was all Albert's fault—Will is not to blame," she cried as she left the witness stand to make way for her daughters, who testified that Shipman, while drunk, stabbed their brother to death in their home.

Appetite Follows

Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

Aluminum.

Aluminum cooking utensils are a delight until they turn dark inside—then they are abomination. It is easy, however, to keep them bright. Either wash them in soda and water or boil comato parings in them; cuttings from rubarb and the water it was washed in alone will often do the work. So will lemon and table salt.

Trying to Hold Italy

With Austria in War

Prince von Buelow

One of the hardest tasks ever assigned a diplomat in Europe has been that given by the Kaiser to Prince von Buelow. He was the work of getting Italy to keep the compact of the Triple Alliance and join Austria and Germany in the war. Soon the demands of the Italian people for action grew so great that his task became that of keeping Italy from joining the allies. As the demands of the people for the return of the lost provinces, Trentino and Istria, have grown, he has had hard work to prevent Italy from declaring war against Austria. While he has not failed, dispatches have it every day that Italy may enter the war any moment.

NEW HOUSE FOR LABOR

DALLAS, Texas, April 2.—As the fruit of nearly two years' agitation, a labor Temple is going up in Dallas. The plans call for a structure costing about $50,000, consisting of three stories and basement. Club rooms and social features will be emphasized in the building.

Kerosene Found Effective.

Investigations have been carried on to discover remedies for insects which damage such forest products as telegraph poles, railroad ties and tool handles. With hardwood products liable to attack by the so-called powderpost beetles it has been found that kerosene and linseed oil are effective repellents against these insects.

DEATH OF MRS. CAMPBELL

Word has been received by friends in the city of the death of Mrs. George H. Campbell which occurred at the home of her son in Chicago. Mrs. Campbell was the sister of the late W. A. Roosevelt, and aunt of Mrs. James McCord and will be remembered by many of the residents here as Miss Mollie Roosevelt, who formerly resided in this city. She was a very handsome woman, one of the belles of the times, and was very popular. Mrs. Campbell visited here last summer, a guest at the home of Mrs. McCord.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Henry A. Salzer and daughter, Gertrude, are in Milwaukee, where they will spend Easter with relatives.

Mrs. Sarah Graham, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles McDonald, has returned to her home at Minneapolis.

Miss Francis Egbert, who will graduate from the Sargent school of physical training at Boston in June, has accepted a position in a ladies' private boarding school at Spokane, Wash.

H. L. Cooper of Stamford, Conn., spent a day in the city as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Maud Batchelder.

Paul Egbert, who is attending the university, arrived home from Madison yesterday to spend the Easter vacation with his parents.

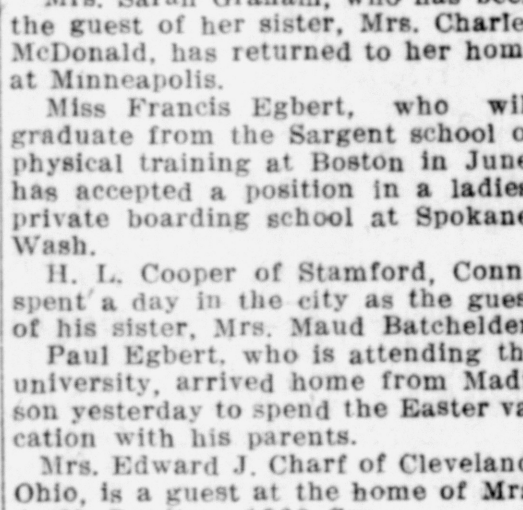

Mrs. Edward J. Chaff of Cleveland, Ohio, is a guest at the home of Mrs. A. M. Brayton, 1922 Cass.

Hibernation.

All sleep is phenomenal, but the sleep which endures the winter through with some warm-blooded animals which find themselves suddenly surrounded by frigid weather, and when all functions that make for the best of life are as if they had never been, is most curious. While it is mainly explicable it is none the less astonishing.

Judge Sentences Them to Work for Ford

Judge Alfred K. Nippert

Judge Alfred K. Nippert of the County Court of Common Pleas in Cincinnati has accepted the offer made by Henry Ford, the Detroit automobile manufacturer, to care for convicts and reform them. Mr. Ford to the Federal Industrial Relations commission, when he testified before it, that he would be able to reform all the prisoners in Sing Sing if they were sent to him. That was not done, but Judge Nippert made an arrangement with him by which prisoners could be sent from Cincinnati to the Detroit plant.

One Cincinnati man has been sent to the Detroit plant following his arrest as a result of being out of work and unable to furnish his wife and baby with food. The young man who was sent to the Detroit plant, instead of to jail, has written the judge he is well satisfied.

FRANCE PREPARES

TO RECOGNIZE AID

Album of Drawings to Be Presented to U. S. and Noted Men Will Visit San Francisco Expo

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent) (Copyright, 1915, by United Press.)
PARIS, April 2.—To show her appreciation for the friendship of America, France will send a delegation of her leading statesmen to the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco it was announced here today.

As added token of appreciation, a special album of sixty original drawings is now being fashioned by French artists for formal presentation to America through United States Ambassador Sharp. President Poincare will make the presentation, the ceremony to be held some time in May, probably at the Sorbonne. Senator Gabriel Hanotaux, former French foreign minister and president of the Franco-American committee, is in charge of the matter, assisted by the noted artists, Leon Bonnat and Henry Lapauze.

Interviewed at his home today, Senator Hanotaux particularly emphasized the fact that the plans were void of political significance.

"At the outset of the war, many individual Americans hurried to France. They rendered all possible aid at the hospitals. They formed ambulance organizations, aided in supplying refugees with food and in other ways expressed their sympathy. From all classes of American people came this evidence of friendship and the people of France have been deeply touched. We desire in some way to express our appreciation," said the senator.

"First, in April we shall send the noted composer, Saint-Saens to San Francisco. There is no living musician greater than Saint-Saens. He goes representing French music. He has no political mission and will not talk war propaganda. With him goes M. Lippman, representing the sciences.

"In May, the Marquis De Chambrun, great grandson of La Fayette, and Benjamin Franklin Bouillon, both deputies, will leave as representatives of parliament. Lastly, in June, M. Boutroux or Henri Bergson, with myself, will go as representatives of the French academy.

"I wish to emphasize that we are not propagandists. We are willing to let events speak for us."

Munch Almost Justified.

After shaking hands at the ferry dock the other day, one colored man inquired of another: "Didn't you marry Dr. Widow Jones about de first of January?" "Dat's me—I did," was the answer; "but I've dun left her." "Why, how's that?" "Well, de fust week she called me honey; de next week she sulked around and called me old Richards; de third week she cum for me wid a fustion, an' I've kinder got a hunch she don't like me."—Exchange.

Industrial Relations Committee Will Probe Conditions at the Chicago Stock Yards

CHICAGO, April 2.—The ill will be lifted from "The Jungle" and the sunlight of publicity poured in by the United States industrial relations commission when it begins a sweeping investigation into conditions at the Chicago stock yards on Wednesday, April 14. The matter of actual working conditions, wages, hours and what the workers have in their homes will be gone into. Sensations are promised when John C. Kennedy, former associate instructor of economics at the University of Chicago, testifies. Prof. Kennedy's survey, made recently for the university settlement, will be read into the commission's record. Another important witness will be J. Ogden Armour.

The probe into stock yards conditions will mark the close of a ten day sitting by the commission. The first matter before the commissioners will be working and wage conditions of Pullman conductors and porters.

Robert T. Lincoln, multi-millionaire son of the martyred president, chairman of the Pullman board of directors, will be the most interesting witness.

KILLS HIS BRIDE ON WEDDING EVE

Instead of Honeymooning Cleveland Is Today Enroute to Start Life Sentence in Prison

SAGINAW, Mich., April 2.—A life sentence in Jackson prison was given today to Robert Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, for the murder of Mrs. Grace Steinhauser, whom he was to have married last night. Smith pleaded guilty to the murder charge when taken before Judge Gage in circuit court this morning. He was sentenced immediately.

Smith attempted suicide by hanging in his cell last night but was discovered by the turnkey.

No motive for Smith's crime can be discovered by the police. The killing occurred at the home of Mrs. Florence Banfield where Smith and Mrs. Steinhauser were to have been married last night. Smith suddenly drew a razor and slashed the woman's throat.

CHILDREN PARADE IN DRY CAMPAIGN

Galesville W. C. T. U. Leads 300 Children and 50 Women Through Streets in Fight Against License

GALESVILLE, Wis., April 2.—(Special.)—Headed by the Whitehall Women's band of fifteen pieces, 300 school children and fifty women were scheduled to parade for prohibition at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The parade is a move in the Women's Christian Temperance Union's "no license" campaign, which will be settled at the polls next Tuesday.

The parade today was to start from the school house immediately at the close of the afternoon session. Under the leadership of Mrs. Ellis Purple, president of the W. C. T. U. who acted as marshal, and Mrs. Benjamin Thomas, her aide, the marchers were to be conducted through the business district of the town.

The marchers were equipped with flags and banners bearing "no license" mottoes.

DEFENSE BLAMES STATE WITNESSES FOR HOOSIER PLOT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 2.—Judge Charles Orbison, representing three of the 23 defendants in the Terre Haute election corruption conspiracy trial, indicated today the plea to be made by the defense when at the close of his address to the jury he cast all blame for the conditions at Terre Haute on the shoulders of Chief of Police Ed Holler and Night Chief Jack Nugent.

Holler and Nugent turned government evidence against Mayor Donn Roberts and the other defendants.

FRIENDSHIP LESSON OF LAST SUPPER

Rev. C. C. Rowleson Discusses Christ's Last Day with Disciples at Union Meeting Thursday

"If you knew that this was your last day on earth, how would you spend it?" asked Rev. Carlos C. Rowleson in his sermon last night, "The Last Day With His Disciples," before the union gathering of the First Congregational, First Baptist, First Methodist and St. Paul's Universalist churches at the Congregational church.

"If I were naming the experience of that last evening with His Disciples, I should call it 'a Revelation of the Divinity of Friendship.' At one point in the conversation he breaks out with the announcement, 'Ye are My friends.' Let us pass through this day of friendship with him."

"Do we realize today that our Lord's last free moments with his disciples were given to the most intense prayer that all disciples should live as friends? In the bickering and sectarian strife of our denominational Christianity, how we defeat the deepest yearning of our Lord's heart. He prayed that we all might be one in that intimate friendship in which he and His Father were one. Are we modern capable of realizing upon that prayer?"

MORE JOBS THAN MEN TO FILL THEM FOR SPRING WORK

If anyone is out of work in La Crosse it is his own fault. Calls for workers at the Wisconsin state employment bureau in the city hall are coming in faster than they can be met, according to Mrs. Clara Statham, in charge. Lusty men are in demand to whack the winter's dust from scores of carpets as the housecleaning fever takes hold, and farmers are turning in repeated S. O. S. calls for assistance with their spring field work.

FAIR BOARD PAYS NO NEED TO AXE

Will Go Ahead with Plans for State Expo Regardless of Debts and Hostile Bill in Legislature

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—The state board of agriculture is going ahead with plans for the 1915 state fair, despite the fact that a bill is pending in the legislature to cut it off without an appropriation, and that the board is $25,000 "in the hole." This was determined at a meeting of the board here today.

Secretary Remy said the fair association owned $26,000 above its bills receivable, but that at the instigation of Governor Philipp a bill had been introduced asking an appropriation of $35,000 to enable the association to discharge these debts and give it a working balance.

In addition to President A. H. Wilkinson and the Secretary, the following members were present: G. N. Nihills of Fond du Lac; W. F. McCaul of Tomah; O. G. Remy of Pewaukee; D. W. Larkin of Sturgeon Bay; J. J. Nelson of Amherst, and Dr. G. A. Kletsch, Thomas Sax and R. J. White of Milwaukee.

SURPRISE TEST STONE'S TARGET

CHICAGO, April 2.—Incessant bombardment of the railroad's policy of using the surprise test to ascertain the efficiency of engineers and reiteration that railroads oppose every safety measure featured the address of Grand Chief Warren Stone today. His speech concluded the wage hearing before the federal arbitration board.

He characterized the man who throws a switch light red right in the face of a fast train to see what the engineer will do, "the greatest fool awaiting the killer." The result is that the engineer lives a lifetime in three seconds, Stone said.

War Office News of Fighting

PARIS, April 2.—French attempts either to cut off or force the retirement of the Germans occupying St. Mihiel apparently are meeting with success. Official dispatches today announced the destruction by mines of several German trenches near Domperle, which is but eight miles north of St. Mihiel.

By successive drives the French troops have pressed in upon the Germans strung along the Meuse to a point north of Verdun. A concerted attempt to drive a wedge through the enemy's line at this point and isolate the Germans on the west bank of the Meuse is now expected.

The official communique from the war office this afternoon announced a new aerial attack upon the German aviation camp at Handzaeme, Belgium, a few miles east of Dixmude. Belgian aviators dropped thirty bombs.

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, April 2.—German successes in several days battling in De Pretre woods northeast of St. Mihiel, have forced the French to evacuate nearly the entire forest, according to official dispatches today. The enemy now holds only two blockhouses near the advanced positions of the Germans. Several French attacks in this region were shattered yesterday by German artillery.

Heavy artillery engagements are now proceeding between St. Mihiel and Verdun along the Meuse heights and also along the Moselle. The official statement from the war office this afternoon said there was nothing important to report along the Prussian frontier or in Poland.

BOSTON, April 2.—Three marine libel suits against the interned German liner Kronprinzessin Cecellie, the celebrated "gold ship" which was forced to turn back from Europe, when the war opened, with a gold cargo estimated at $11,000,000, were on yesterday before United States District Judge Hale. The Guaranty Trust Co., of New York is suing the vessel's owners for failing to deliver $5,000,000 in gold. Chas. W. Rantoul of New York and Maurice Hansen of Belgium are suing, respectively, for $5,000 and $200,000 for inability to land in Europe. Hansen's property was destroyed by the German army.

FARM BOARD BILL ROUGHLY HANDLED

First Bill Recommended by Probing Committee Is Branded as Extravagant by Everett

MADISON, Wis., April 2.—The first bill recommended by the legislative committee investigating the various state departments, came on for public hearing before the assembly committee on agriculture Thursday. The bill providing for a state board of agriculture fared rather poorly at the hands of State Senator Everett, also a member of the state fair board.

Senator Everett said that the people had talked a great deal during the campaign about high salaries commissions and that the proposed bill created three salaried positions in place of boards, which drew no salaries, and a small amount of expenses. None of the employees of any of the boards sought to be abolished received as large a salary as was proposed for the three members of the new board. He called attention to the provision of the bill, which called upon the new board to supervise the expenditures of all agricultural associations, which received aid from the state, saying that this supervision would involve tremendous expense. With these added duties, it would be impossible to carry on the work now called for with the appropriation provided in the bill. Senator Everett saw no saving in expense.

Speaker Whitte had charge of the bill, claiming that it placed control in the hands of the governor where it belonged, as he was directly responsible to the people of the state. It was not claimed for the bill that it would result in a material saving, but that the work of the various boards consolidated would be more efficiently done.

The railroad rate commission was the subject of a vigorous attack by representatives of the city of Milwaukee before the assembly committee on transportation. The Vint bill seeking to take control of utilities in cities of the first class brought out criticism of every act of the commission in Milwaukee cases since the commission was founded.

A teacher in a Woodland avenue school asked the other day: "How many kinds of flowers are there?" Three pupils held up their hands. She chose one to reply. "Well, Isidor, how many kinds of flowers are there?" "Three, teacher." "Indeed? And what are they?" "Wild, tame and collie."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

KING PETER INSPIRED BIG SERBIAN VICTORY SAYS CORRESPONDENT

SERBIAN MONARCH FOUGHT AT FRONT ALTHOUGH GRIPPLED

The Aged Peter Deserted Comfort for the Battle Line and Caused Austrian Rout

NISH, Serbia, March 9.—(By Mail to New York.)—The one man, who more than anyone else, deserves all the credit for the great Serbian victory over the Austrians last December, is King Peter himself.

King Peter is more than 70 years of age. He is so crippled with rheumatism, contracted from sleeping on the rainy battlefields of the last two Balkan wars that he can scarcely walk. Yet he entered the first line trenches in that desperate fighting to preserve his little kingdom and so inspired his army that the Austrians fled from Serbian soil, leaving behind 30,000 in killed and wounded and 40,000 prisoners.

The story was told me today by Dr. Wukitchewitch, the king's private physician. He is probably the only man in Serbia who witnessed the entire drama.

At Baths of Vranja
"Toward the end of November," said Dr. Wukitchewitch, "I was with his majesty in the southern part of Serbia at the Baths of Vranja, where he was undergoing treatment. The news came to us of the Serbian retreat from the plain of the Yadar and from the Kolubars. You can imagine the sadness of it all. The Austrians were within ten leagues of our great arsenal and ammunition factory at Kragujevatz and the occupation of Belgrade seemed imminent. The enemy flattered himself that he would finish our little kingdom by one single blow."

"His majesty became taciturn and depressed. But on the night of November 29, he came to dinner radiant and happy."

"I have ordered a train for six tomorrow morning," he said to me. "I am going to the front with my soldiers. We will defeat them or die together."

"I was astonished. I protested that his state of health would not permit him to go, but at six in the morning we were on our way. At Nish, M. Patchitch, the prime minister, appeared. He brought the government's protest. It would be folly, he said, for the king to continue. But his majesty only smiled, a bit grimly, and signalled for the train to continue."

"At the last railway station, an automobile met us. From Roudnik the king was carried by two soldiers on a litter. He appeared to gain strength at every yard and when finally the soldiers brought him to the second line trenches he was half smiling, half crying with joy. He descended from the litter, seized the flag and kissed it devoutly. Soldiers came running from all sides."

King Speaks to Men
"Men, it seems that you are tired," said his majesty. "The Austrians have invited you not to fight any more, to return to your wives and families. You are free to do what you will, but for me, I shall cling to this flag. I shall fight to the last with those who choose to remain with me."

"There was a moment of impressive silence. Then the mayor of a nearby village, the highest ranking officer of the reserve present, stepped forward."

"Gospodarou (Sire), he said, 'we are with you to the end. Every man here will die before he yields.' "That night we slept in a nearby village. The next morning we joined the army of Kosmay. They escorted us to a village where the first line trenches were falling all about us."

Grabs Dead Man's Rifle
"It was impossible to restrain his majesty. He dropped his cane and hobbled into the firing line. He picked up the rifle of a dead soldier and began firing. Only when his troops, inspired by the presence of their aged king, leaped out of the trenches with a roar of cheers and began driving the enemy before them in a bayonet charge did he desist."

"The next day his majesty appeared thoroughly rejuvenated. He walked without his cane and acted like a boy of ten. We kept pace with the Serbians who were advancing rapidly in full pursuit of the Austrians. At Torlak, just in front of Belgrade, King Peter stood on a little elevation and saw the Austrians as they evacuated the capital, watched while Serbian troops re-entered the city and saw Serbian artillery destroy the bridges across the Save over which the Austrian rear guard was trying to get out of Serbian territory."

Orders a Te Deum
"Austrian shells were still bursting in Belgrade when the king entered. He found the cathedral, toward which he first directed his steps, securely locked. A small boy recognized the king, threw a stone through the window, crawled in and unbolted the door. A priest was found and his majesty ordered a Te Deum."

"It was a strange Te Deum that was celebrated there in the cathedral, with the guns still booming, now at a distance. The people crowded in to kiss the king's mantle, rather than to listen to the service. A little later an automobile dashed up with the two princes. They carried their father away in their arms and the service ended in a delirium of joy."

"There is no one in Serbia today who doubts for a moment that King Peter saved the kingdom from being over-run by the Austrians. King Peter was slowly retreating. It was his first terrible attack under the stimulus of his presence that started the Austrian retreat."

Toads.
There is nothing very attractive looking about toads. If you should find one of the homely little fellows hopping about among your flowers and plants do not allow anyone to disturb him, as they are invaluable to farmers and gardeners. They destroy many insects and bugs that would otherwise ruin plants.
